Speaking Out

"I vote 'no' without malice," said Bob Wescott of York Street. He was one of many Andover residents who expressed their point of view about the Collaborative School at the Special Town Meeting Monday night.

Collaborative School Warrant Gets Thumbs Down From Town

By Julie M. Barry

The warrant article about the proposed Lawrence-Andover Collaborative School was overwhelmingly defeated by a secret ballot vote of 1153 to 200 at the Special Town Meeting June 20.

Almost 1,600 registered voters attended the meeting at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts. The meeting was so well attended that a portion of the crowd was seated in Andover High School's cafeteria. Voters in the cafeteria could listen to goings-on via public announcement system.

This was one of the most highly attended Special Town Meetings, said Town Clerk Elden Salter.

The article concerned Andover's entering into an agreement with Lawrence to build a collaborative school.

The school would house 1,200 students from pre-kindergarten to eighth grade—400 students would be from Andover, 800 from Lawrence. If adopted, the school would be scheduled to open in September, 1990.

The vote may have defeated the warrant article, but it does not prohibit the School Committee from continuing its study of the joint school.

The committee has the final authority to decide whether the study will continue or end.

Many key players in this controversial issue addressed the audience.

Jack Dziadul, head of Citizens for Neighborhood Schools—the group that petitioned for the special Town Meeting—introduced the article.

"The Special Town Meeting is born out of a frustration that our School Committee is voluntarily blind to the views of the majority of Andover voters," Dziadul said.

One of the many concerns Dziadul al-

Kimberly J. Kupa

Named Fels Scholar

Kimberly Jane Kupa has been named a Fels Scholar by the Fels Center of Government at the University of Pennsylvania for the 1988-89 academic year.

The Fels Scholar appointments are based upon academic excellence and evidence of management potential, such as campus or job leadership and advancement. Kupa is enrolled in a two-year graduate program where she will receive two master's degrees, one in international relations and one in government administration. The Fels Center admits 50 students, 25 United States, 25 foreign, to its graduate program.

Kupa graduated from Smith College, Northampton, May 22 with a major in English language and literature and a minor in international relations. She received the Thomas Corwin Mendenhall Award for history and was editor of the Sophian, the college newspaper. Kupa spent her junior year studying at the University of London and had an internship at the Guardian, a London newspaper. This summer she will work for the BBC in London.

The 1984 Andover High School National Merit Scholar graduate is the daughter of Edward and Judi Kupa, 4 Joseph St.

Young Honored By Academy

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Suzanne M. Young has been named a United States National Collegiate Award winner in Spanish. The academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American college students.

Young, who attends Regis College, was nominated for this national award by Dr. Ana Aloma Velilla, head of the department at the school. Young will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Collegiate Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, executive director of the United States Achievement Academy.

Young is the daughter of Marcia E. Young and granddaughter of Grace Young of North Andover.

She has a double major of chemistry and mathematics and a minor of Spanish and has been on the Dean's List every semester. Young is entering her senior year.

School Board To Meet At Doherty

The Andover School Committee will hold a regularly scheduled meeting on Tuesday, June 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Doherty Junior High School auditorium. The committee's future action towards the proposed Collaborative School and a presentation of the final parent survey results regarding the joint school will be agenda items.

Preparations For Fourth Underway

The final preparations for the Fourth of July are being made on the All-Town Celebration.

The day will begin at 8 a.m. with breakfast in the park. Following the start of breakfast is the Horribles' Parade with a wide range of awards to be given for various categories. The morning's activities conclude with the Middlesex Concert Band playing familiar and patriotic selections. The day concludes at dusk with fireworks at the high school.

Recycling Represents Savings

Paper collections are doing well this summer. Andover Recycling and the Town of Andover realized $1,434.40 for the 143.44 tons saved out of the trash in May. And, remember, that is the amount we were paid for the paper. When you add the $63.00 per ton it would have cost the town to send that 143.44 tons to the incinerator, there is another $9,036.72 saved. Congratulations to Andover recyclers.

Corrections

The distribution of the operating costs of the proposed Andover-Lawrence Collaborative School was incorrectly printed in the June 9 issue of The TOWNSMAN. The operating costs will be apportioned per pupil to member municipalities. Andover will be responsible for one-third, Lawrence for two-thirds, of the capital costs.

The graduation announcement of James M. Kochakian was incorrectly reported in the June 9 issue of The TOWNSMAN. Kochakian, who recently graduated from Bentley College, lives at 17 Oakland Road and received his bachelor of science degree in finance.

Refrigerator Needed

The Department of Community Services' Ha-Kow-Wee summer program at Recreation Park needs a refrigerator. If you have one you'd like to donate, call the department in the town offices.

Surveys Due Tomorrow

The Andover School Committee's surveys, sent out to parents of children 11 years old and younger, are due Friday, June 24. The surveys are intended to gather information about the proposed Andover-Lawrence Collaborative School.

On Dean's List

Tracy Cassell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cassell of Snowberry Road, has been named to the dean's list at North Adams State College for the spring term.

BACK TALK

by Dr. Thomas M. Sheehan
Chiropractor

BIOMECHANICS

Biomechanics describes the way our bodies move. Our muscles and joints can be compared to ropes and pulleys. The joints need freedom throughout their range of motion in order to move with maximum efficiency.

The spinal column is a good example of joints needing this freedom to perform properly. Loss of biomechanical efficiency due to spinal misalignments puts undue stress on the spine and leaves the joints and muscles susceptible to strains, sprains and serious complications.

Chiropractors are experts in biomechanics and will determine which joints are misaligned and correct the problem allowing normal function to return.

Dr. Sheehan is presently offering free spinal exams to determine impaired joint function. Take advantage of this opportunity to check how efficiently your spinal joints are moving and perhaps prevent a serious problem.

Andover Artist Wins Awards

In one of the best annual juried and independent art shows at the Whistler Museum in Lowell, Bette Wasserboehr was awarded first prize for her watercolor painting "Visitors Parking Only."

The show ran through June 19. An art critic remarked about the show of "highly creative imaginations in a first-rate showing of fine talent and quality rendering."

Bette won the Knapp Award for her watercolor painting "Boston Market" at the Reading Art Association showing on the common in Reading on Saturday, June 11.

She will be at the Cory Staid Gallery in Kennebunkport, Maine, this summer for her 15th year.

Students Present Recitals

Students of guitar and piano presented recitals this month in the studi of Kathleen E. Benson of Andover.

Two of Benson's classes in guitar joined on June 7 to present an in-studio program of trios and duets and a "play and sing-along" of folk tunes. Performers were Maura Collins, Laurie Cookson and Elizabeth deValence from the class for youth and Diane Cadagan, Shirley D'Agati and Marjorie Dugal from the adult class. Mary Duffy participated in the term of study.

Parents and families attended a recital on June 17 for students of piano who performed pieces from the different periods in music. Those who performed were Martina Carlson, Amanda Firicano, Patricia Har, Christine Leong, Ingrid Mallmberg, Anne Milmoie, Colleen Reid, accompanied by her mother, Terrie, and Emily Sedgwick.

This was the final event in a series of activities which included workshops, recitals, the Merrimack Valley Music Festival and participation in the National Guild of Piano Teachers auditions.

Both recitals were followed by a reception.

Benson is director of the "Celebration Singers" at St. Augustine's Church in Andover, where several of her students are beginning to serve in music ministry.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Outfitting a newborn can be expensive, but fortunately, you don't have to buy everything beforehand. Basic equipment and a small wardrobe are your necessary needs. Most items can wait until the baby has arrived and you're home from the hospital. In fact, it's sensible to limit your purchase of clothes at first, because they're often outgrown before they're outworn. As far as furniture goes, a tiny newborn requires only a tiny bed, so parents like to choose a bassinet or wicker basket on wheels. You may want to acquire a crib now or wait until the baby is ready for it. This will be your baby's bed for three or more years, so choose wisely. Leading manufacturers are represented at TINY TOTLAND. Open 9-5:30. Mon. & Th. 9-9. M/C & Visa honored. free lay-a-way plan. Do all of your shopping for baby in one convenient stop. Elected To National Board

Susan Shaer of Andover was elected to the board of directors of the League of Women Voters of the United States and the board of trustees of the League of Women Voters Education Fund.

The election was held during the closing plenary session of the league's 38th biennial convention. Nancy M. Neuman was elected to her second term as president. Also elected were Harriette Burkhalter, first vice president; Kenni Friedman, second vice president; Penny Harris, secretary/treasurer.

Shaer served as chairman of thenational league's 1986-88 budget committee and was president of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts from 1984-1987.

She is president and founder of the Tax Equity Alliance for Massachusetts (TEAM) and president of the Council for Fair School Finance. Shaer is a gubernatorial appointee to the Legislative Commission on Tax Reform and was also appointed to the Supreme Judicial Court Gender Bias Study Commission.

In an effort to coordinate discussions on peace issues between women, Shaer attended the 1987 World Congress of Women in Moscow. Subsequent meetings in New York and Washington resulted.

She is a consultant to the Institute of Politics of the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. She organizes the Clearinghouse for Women Candidates, a national center for training and educating future women political candidates.

Sherry

The town of Jerrez—Sherry is the English version of the name—lies not far from the Atlantic Coast in the province of Andalusia. The best sherry vineyard land is called albariza, a distinctively white soil with a very high proportion of chalk. Only when grown in this special chalky soil do the two most important sherry grapes, the Palomino and the Pedro Ximenez, produce the finest wines.

The natural intensifying in the sun of the grapes' sugars is only the first of many unique steps in the production of sherry. Next, the wine ferments for about a week to ten days. Then follows a second fermentation when the remaining sugar is converted, leaving a pleasant, wine.

Jazzeroberics

A six-week course of Jazzeroberics will be offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Doherty Junior High School, beginning June 28. Sign up at the DCS office on Bartlet Street.

Registration

Registration is continuing at the DCS office on Bartlet Street for its summer programs. Call ahead to check on openings.

Movies, Concerts

The Family Movie Program begins Monday, July 11, at dusk with movies being shown Monday evenings. The summer concert series begins July 6 at 6:30 p.m. with concerts being held Wednesday evenings. All events take place in Central Park and are free. Movie and concert listings are in the DCS summer booklet.

Playground Registration

Spaces are still available in the K.A.M.P.S. Shee-Hee, Shaw-Neer and Ha-Kow-Wee programs. Registration forms and information flyers are available at the DCS office. K.A.M.P.S. programs run June 27 to August 19.

Monitor Needed

The Department of Community Services is looking for a person age 18 or over to work as a monitor for the movie program and concert series. Applicants should be able to operate a 16mm. movie projector; some heavy lifting is involved. Hours are Mondays beginning at dusk and Wednesdays beginning at 6:30 p.m. Interested persons should contact the DCS office as soon as possible.

Karate

The Department of Community Services is sponsoring a three-week Shorin-Ryu Karate introductory course for all ages at Doherty Junior High School on Tuesdays from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. Students will learn the basics of karate as well as self-defense, mental awareness and physical conditioning. Register at the DCS office in Town Offices on Bartlet Street Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Girls' Hoop School

The Department of Community Services is planning a basketball school for girls ages 12-16. Coach George Sullivan will direct the program which will include skill development, drills, films, evaluations, awards and daily snack. Two sessions have been scheduled, July 11-15 and 25-29, at the high school Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Kupa Receives Grant

Edward James Kupa Jr., who has just completed his sophomore year at Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., has been awarded a government grant to do biomedical research this summer.

The engineering major has received the Phi Gamma Delta Prize for outstanding achievement and performance in math and is a member of Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Kupa, who has participated in crew since his junior year at Phillips Academy, was the stroke of the Trinity College varsity heavyweight crew boat this past season. His boat was Division 3 champions. Kupa has represented the United States in national and world competition as a member of the junior national rowing team and races regionally and nationally in a single shell during the summer season. The 1992 Olympic hopeful is the son of Edward and Judi Kupa, 4 Joseph St.

Students, Teacher Win Laurels

John A. Gould suggested that the Andover residents in his creative writing class at Phillips Academy enter their short stories in the Writers' World competition for the July 4 Marblehead Festival of Arts. The result: both teacher Gould and student Thomas Hopkins penned prize-winning short stories.

Gould's entry, "Teeth," received the Writer's World award for "outstanding work" in the adult short story category; Hopkins' entry, "Theodore's Dream," won "best of show" for a student short story.

"Theodore's Dream" is about a dream that I actually had," Hopkins said. "The form of the story is influenced by Franz Kafka's 'Metamorphosis,' which I had just read." This fall Hopkins will enter Harvard University where he will major in English literature and continue his creative writing.

"Teeth" is about a little old lady in a nursing home," explained Gould. "She goes around collecting everyone else's false teeth until she finds a set that fit. It's a combination of one idea from a 'Dear Abby' column and another from a household hints column."

Writers' World selected nine other winners. J. Norman Dingle of Lynn and Dorothy Stephens of Marblehead were awarded "best of show" for adult short story. Meg Lukens of Marblehead won "best of show" and Marcia Doehner of Marblehead won the "outstanding work" award for adult poetry. The winners for adult short story are R.F. Baker of Marblehead for "best of show" and Mary Whittle of Boxford for "outstanding work."

Rachel Palleschi of Marblehead won "outstanding work" in the student short story category. Kristen Ankiewicz of Lynn won "best of show" for student poetry and Rachel Palleschi won a second "outstanding work" award.

All the winning entries will be published in the 1988 Writers' World book which will be available at the Writers' World exhibit at the King Hooper Mansion July 1-4. A series of writing workshops will be held throughout the four-day festival. The public is welcome to participate.

"This year, Writers' World exerted a greater geographic pull than ever before," said committee co-chair Carole Dine. "We received entries from all over Essex County. For the first time writers from Boxford, Georgetown and Andover took part in Writers' World. The scope and reach of our competition has broadened. As a result, the quality and diversity of the entries has too."

Poster Exhibit At College

Northern Essex Community College's Bentley Library Gallery will feature Diversity Endangered, a poster panel exhibition developed by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Services (SITES), June 20-July 28.

Through the use of color photographs, illustrations and text, this timely exhibit explores the world-wide deterioration and destruction of the earth's life forms. The posters illustrate abuses such as acid rain, strip mining, air and water pollution which pose a threat to the delicate yet complex framework on which all life depends.

As part of the life-long learning program at NECC, a gallery walk followed by a lecture are slated for Thursday, July 21, at 2 p.m. Joanne Michaud, information systems manager of the Center for Plant Conservation at the Arnold Arboretum, Boston, will lead the discussion on the threats facing endangered plant life. The exhibit, gallery walk and lecture are free and open to the public.

The exhibition was made possible by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

Sunday hours are from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. For weekday hours and more information, contact Arthur Signorelli, gallery coordinator.

Elderhostel

Bradford College will offer three sessions of Elderhostel programming on its campus this summer.

Elderhostel courses are designed for those who enjoy learning and investigation without being burdened with tests, grades, exams or other requirements. The only entrance requirement is that you are at least 60

To receive a free catalogue of Elderhostel programs worldwide, write to Elderhostel, 80 Boylston St., Suite 400, Boston.

Sanborn, West School Years Draw To Close

Sanborn and West elementary schools are all set for the last day of school, which is tomorrow.

Sanborn students, who celebrated their school's 25th anniversary this spring, picnicked and participated in the dedication of a new playground Tuesday. After the picnic, the students played games.

West fifth-graders put on a talent show for their schoolmates Monday. The kids put on three showings of almost two dozen skits that included an air band performance; "Snow Wimp and the Seven Dorks," a parody of a familiar fairy tale; and several other comic sketches.

Parents turned out for both elementary school events.

Sanborn School celebrated the end of the school year with a picnic Tuesday. Parents and students enjoyed the sunny weather that's been the norm for most of the month.

Two West Elementary students perform a comedy skit called "Jump" before their fellow classmates during Tuesday's talent show.

Andona Society Names Scholarship Winners

Sharon Campagna

Mark Dubois

Glenn Fortin

Johanna Hohn

Allyson Misenti

Susan Santagati

The Andona Society announced the recipients of its six scholarships this year. Three were awarded to Andover High School graduates, Glenn Matthew Fortin, Johanna Elizabeth Hohn and Susan E. Santagati. And three went to alumni of the Greater Lawrence Regional Technical High School, Sharon Campagna, Mark C. Dubois and Allyson L. Misenti. All six are Andover residents.

Fortin, 17, is the son of Al and Nancy Fortin of 9 Algonquin Ave. He will be attending the University of Rhode Island and is interested in a career in pharmacy. His interests include skiing and gymnastics.

Hohn, 18, is the daughter of Fred and Marcia Hohn of 6 Pioneer Circle. She may major in psychology/biology at the College of William and Mary, where she is headed this fall. Hohn was captain of the Andover High swim team and a member of the National Honor Society, the Newspaper Club and the Academic Decathlon team. She was involved in Nautilus at the high school.

Santagati, 18, is the daughter of Richard J. and Marilyn Santagati of 3 Farmland Circle. She plans to major in English or political science at Brown University and then go on to law school. While at Brown, Santagati would like to continue with her athletic pursuits in track.

Campagna, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Campagna of 38 Pasho St. She will attend Jingles of New York and hopes to own her own salon some day.

Dubois, 17, is the son of Gerard and Eileen Dubois of 6 Shawshen Road. He will be going to the New Hampshire Vocational Technical College in Laconia, N.H. and wants to earn a degree and become successful in the graphic arts field. Dubois' interests include art, photography and tennis.

Misenti, 17, is the daughter of Stephen and Allyson Misenti of 10 Cuba St. She will also be attending the N.H. Voc-Tech College and wants to transfer the credits she earns there to the Rochester Institute of Technology. She is interested in photography, graphic arts, camping, hiking and sailing.

Society Elects New Officers

The Andona Society held its last meeting for the 1987-'88 term with the election of new officers to serve for a two-year period. The dinner meeting was held at the Andover Country Club on Monday, June 20. Elected are Lisa Famiglietti, president; Eleanor Clark, vice president; Joyce Cullen, secretary; Janice Pojasek, treasurer.

Appointed to serve a one-year term on the board are Susan Jenkins, ways and means; Karen Stitham, meetings; Beth Kline, public relations and records; Maura Burke, membership; Joan Lee, points; Marilyn Gigliotti, properties; Mary Ellen Sullivan, civic.

PA Student At Program For Journalism

Michelle Young of Andover, a junior at Phillips Academy, is one of 16 Massachusetts high school students selected to attend the High School Journalism Workshop for Minorities at the University of Massachusetts-Boston through July 2.

The workshop will give the juniors and college-bound seniors a chance to examine print journalism first-hand by exposing them to an intensive two-week program.

During their two-week stint as "professionals," the students will publish a newspaper from the story idea stage through the editing stage. They will spend 75 percent of their time on newspaper writing, editing, interviewing and learning formal layout techniques.

An advisory board of university and newspaper people are designing all facets of the program. Financial commitments have been made by many area papers, including The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune. Young is the editor of P.A.L.A.S., the publication of the Afro-Latino American Society active in Oxfam. She's been to Dakar, Senegal as part of a school community service program that started to renovate the Leopold Angland Elementary School on the island of Goree.

The laboratory newspaper she will help produce will explore the theme "life after high school." The paper will be typeset at The Boston Globe and printed at The Patriot Ledger. All work will be done under the supervision of faculty members/journalists, most of whom are young minorities with whom the students can identify.

The sponsors hope to interest these students in American newspapers either as an opportunity for careers, or as part of their studies when they attend college.

Sophomore Attends Leadership Workshop

By Sondra Barch

Eric Friese, a sophomore at Andover High School, represented the school at a seminar sponsored by the Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership Foundation June 10-12. Most of the weekend was spent in seminars and small group discussions that centered on leadership and making the world a better place.

It was held at Boston College, and Friese was one of 220 representatives from Massachusetts high schools. He qualified to represent Andover High by writing three essays about his work in the community. A panel of faculty and administration members selected him from a group of applicants.

At the end of the session, each seminar group elected a member to present their ideas and conclusions to a panel of BU faculty members. Friese was elected by his group and had the opportunity to take part in a Boston Globe press conference.

He said the seminar was well worth the time. "I definitely think that Andover should send a delegate every year," Friese said. "I found it informative and interesting."

Barch is an AHS junior.

SADD Sponsors 'B.Y.O.B.' Night

Andover High School students enjoyed an evening of fun, food and entertainment at B.Y.O.B. (Bring Your Own Banana) night Friday, June 10, in the cafeteria.

Sponsored by SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving), a choice of three movies, popcorn, soda and an ice cream smorgasbord were offered for the admission price of $1. The low cost was made possible by SADD fund-raising activities throughout the year.

"Because B.Y.O.B. night was such a success, we will plan to do more of these events next fall," said Patty Barrett, SADD adviser. There were approximately 200 guests and the students who participated agree that B.Y.O.B. gave them a great opportunity to be with their friends for a good time.

SADD is an organization that promotes safety among teenagers. The members work together to achieve a common goal—to discourage students from drinking and driving. With SADD awareness, more young adults are increasing their knowledge about the dangers of substance abuse and how to handle difficult situations. Alcohol-free activities, such as B.Y.O.B., are encouraged by SADD members, and they hope teenagers entering Andover High School this fall will participate in these types of events.

School Marching Band Elects Officers

The Andover High School marching band continues to prepare for the 1988 football and competition season under the direction of Marc Keroack and his staff.

The band elected officers for the coming year on June 16. Elected were Sue Boush, president; Mike Sintros, vice president; Ken Gable, secretary; Kathy Ciaccia, treasurer; Maureen Mitchell, ninth and tenth grade representative.

Drum majors Sue Boush and Kim O'Neill will lead the band in competition at Melrose on Oct. 8, Portsmouth on October 16, Andover on Oct. 23 and Triton on Oct. 30.

A few openings still exist for color guard positions. This group is open to anyone from grades 8-12. No previous musical or marching experience is required. For more information, contact Keroack at Andover High School.

St. Augustine Names Student of Month

St. Augustine School released the names of its students of the month for May. The following students were elected by the faculty on the basis of attitude, achievement and Christian fellowship.

Grade One: Larry Burns and Emily Urich

Grade Two: Christopher Desjardins, Melissa Grusmark, Anthony LeMieux and Allison Loosigian

Grade Three: Erin Brennan, Neil Fin-

neran, Timothy Meunier, Andrew Parker and Susan Perkins

Grade Four: Daniel Ahls, Brian Carpenter, Jessica Cavallaro and Michael Perkins

Grade Five: Ann Marie Hogarty and Leah Mason

Grade Six: Jeff Arsenault, Tracey Hegarty and Mary Ellen Shay

Grade Seven: Matthew Marvin and Sean Reilly

Grade Eight: Michael Corbin and Erin Grogan.

Junior High Students Move To High School

Doherty and West junior high schools will hold their final exercises for eighth- and ninth-graders today and tomorrow. Both grades will be moving on to Andover's four-year high school in the fall. Doherty's ninth-graders graduate today at 8:45 a.m.; the eighth-graders have their turn Friday at the same time. West ninth-graders graduate this morning at 10, followed tomorrow at the same time by their younger schoolmates.

Full coverage of these events will be in next week's TOWNSMAN.

School's Out For Summer

Tomorrow is the last day of school for Andover students. Dismissal time for Andover High School students will be at 11 a.m.; elementary school students may leave at noon. At the high school, periods one through eight will meet in shortened classes.

Andover High Alumnus Warns Of Head Injuries

By Julie M. Barry

It was noon and John McEwen, a 1978 Andover High School graduate, was spending the day speaking to various health classes at his alma mater.

In one particular class, he explained that his wife and two children had dropped him off at the school four hours earlier—at 8 a.m. "I couldn't tell you what my (three-month-old) son looked like without looking at a picture in my wallet," McEwen said.

The reason for this lack of memory is a head injury he suffered after a motorcycle accident two years ago.

McEwen was speaking on behalf of a head and spinal cord injury prevention program, Feet First, First Time. It's sponsored by the New England Neurological Associates and the Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital.

The basic message of the program is that people can be injured by entering water of unknown depth or encountering unknown objects below the surface.

McEwen was in charge of the program at Andover High. He spoke about general head and spinal cord injuries and his own personal experience.

"I'm here because I want me to be the closest you come to a head injury," McEwen said.

Ten thousand people will sustain spinal cord injuries, and another 400,000 will suffer head injuries, he said. People between the ages of 15 and 35 are at the greatest risk for these type of injuries.

McEwen pointed out the major causes.

Leading the list is motor vehicle accidents, which accounts for about 50 percent of the injuries. He stressed wearing a seatbelt and a helmet and not drinking and driving.

The remaining causes are falling down, sports injuries and violent accidents.

Many sports-related injuries result from diving accidents.

To prevent such an accident, McEwen told the students to jump into the water first. If it's dangerous, jumping may result in a broken ankle or foot, but those injuries will heal.

Diving may result in a spinal cord or head injury, and those injuries are final, McEwen said. "There is no cure for a spinal cord or head injury."

Since there is no cure, McEwen will never recover. But, he says it's not too late for young people to avoid a similar situation by thinking twice before doing something. That's where "Think first," the theme of the program fits in. Thinking first may prevent a serious accident.

Prevention, McEwen says, is the only cure for the numerous spinal cord and head injuries.

To make sure students understood the full impact of these injuries, McEwen spoke candidly about his personal accident and modified lifestyle.

An alcohol-related motorcycle accident left McEwen in a

Library To Conduct Summer Reading Program

Bridget Bennett, children's librarian at Memorial Hall Library, invites all Andover children to join in a quest to unlock the richness of books through a summer of reading and other activities in the library's "Key to the Treasure" program.

Children may sign up for a special booklet beginning Monday, June 27 in which to record their reading progress. Non-readers may participate with parental assistance by signing up for a "Read-to-me" booklet. Children may start any time during June and July. By participating in the program children can maintain their reading and listening skills over the summer, discover new authors and titles and experience the joys and satisfaction of relaxed recreational reading.

A variety of summer story hours is planned for preschoolers. A story hour for three-year-olds will be offered each Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. beginning the week of July 4. Four-year-olds are invited at the same time on Wednesdays and five-year-olds on Thursdays. No registration is required, but the staff asks that only children of the appropriate ages come on the designated days.

A summer crafts program especially for 6-10 year-olds begins Monday, July 11. Registration will be requested for each weekly event. A flier is available for full details on "Make-it-on-Mondays" and other programs in the Children's Room.

The first successful appendectomy was performed in Iowa in 1885.

YMCA News

"Kids Unlimited," a new YMCA summer child care program for children in kindergarten through sixth grade, will make its home at Faith Lutheran Church, 360 South Main St. Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Nine one-week sessions are available July 5 through September 2. Parents may register children for two, three or five days per one-week session. The activity plans include arts and crafts, games and sports, instructional and recreational swimming, walks to nearby parks and field trips. For further information, contact Cathy Dawson at the Andover-North Andover YMCA, 165 Haverhill St.

The Andover-North Andover YMCA is offering two sports camps for youths aged 6 to 14. The one week basketball and gymnastic camps run Monday through Friday from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. There is one hour and 45 minutes of sports instruction and a 45-minute recreation swim.

The basketball camps will be directed by Debbie Cogen, women's head basketball coach at Merrimack College. The camps run July 5-8, 26-29 and August 8-12. Emphasis will be placed on drills, clinics, games and fun. Adjustable net will accommodate beginners not yet seven feet tall.

Gymnastics camps will be held July 18-22, August 1-5 and 15-19. They will be directed by Russ Mentzer, head coach/youth physical director at the Y.

Reilly Named Director

Joseph J. Reilly, Jr. has joined Morality in Media, Inc. (MIM) in New York as national director. He comes to his new post from the office of Governor Edward D. Di Prete of Rhode Island where he served as deputy director of policy. Rabbi Dr. Julius G. Neumann, chairman of the MIM board of directors, and Rev. Paul J. Murphy, S.J., president, announced Reilly's appointment.

Founded in 1962, MIM is a national, interfaith organization working to stop the illegal traffic in pornography constitutionally through the vigorous enforcement of obscenity laws. MIM provides public information and education on the issue and, through its National Obscenity Law Center, acts as a clearinghouse of legal information on obscenity law, cases and materials for prosecutors, other law enforcement officials and attorneys and elected officials.

Prior to working on Di Prete's staff, Reilly was director of human resources of Henry L. Hanson, Inc., in Worcester and vice president of human resources of Cabot Corporation in Boston before that. He was the first executive director of the Massachusetts Catholic Conference, serving from 1971-74. Earlier corporate affiliations include General Instrument, Hicksville, N.Y.; Fairchild Semiconductor, Mountain View, Calif.; Transatron, Wakefield; ITT, New York City; Sylvania, Woburn; Filene's in Boston.

A native of New York City, Reilly has been active in civic and religious organizations and is completing his third term as chairman of the board of Massachusetts Citizens for Life, Inc. He is a frequent speaker before youth, service organizations such as the Knights of Columbus, Rotary and Kiwanis and on college campuses, including Holy Cross, Boston College, Smith, the University of Delaware and Harvard.

Reilly is the recipient of many honors, medals and commendations, including the In Hoc Signo Award, the highest alumni honor of the College of the Holy Cross, which was presented to him in June 1987.

He holds a bachelor of arts in English from the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester and a master's in religious education from Emmanuel College in Boston. Reilly is the father of seven grown children. His biography was placed in "Who's Who in the East" in 1978.

Camp Names New Director

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Loscutt have promoted Richard Lennon, 28 Bradley Road, Andover, to the position of program director of Camp Evergreen.

"We are pleased with the appointment of Mr. Lennon. His diverse background and experiences in working with children and young adults match our philosophy of caring and relating to our campers with good, positive experiences in a healthy environment."

Camp Evergreen is celebrating its 25th year of the Loscutt family's providing happy camping memories to children of the Greater Andover area. This year's summer season begins June 27 and continues through August 19.

Lennon has been a physical education teacher and director of swimming in the Medford public schools for the past 20 years. He holds a degree in physical education and health and a master's degree in community services education. He is also an in-service computer instructor to other teachers and staff. Lennon is a part-time staff monitor at the Computer Literacy Center of Phillips Academy. He is a volunteer swimming and diving coach at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. Lennon is also a member of the church council of St. Basil's in Methuen and on the board of directors of Chocorua Ski & Beach Club in New Hampshire.

Lennon is an instructor in American Red Cross water safety, Red Cross canoeing, adapted aquatics, first aid, drug and substance abuse and CPR. He is an instructor in Project Adventure, scuba diving, new games and orienteering.

He said, "I acknowledge the trust of the Loscutt family to continue and expand on their fine tradition of outdoor camping and recreation in their 10-acre forest preserve. I enjoy the challenge of organizing, administering and sharing ideas with a dedicated staff in this great natural environment, which will focus on preparing children with the ability to not only enjoy their childhood, but also to relate with others and cope in later life."

Lennon is married to Eileen, a nurse on the management staff at Lahey Clinic's operating room. Their son Daniel is a junior at Phillips Academy and daughter Kate is a seventh grader at Doherty School.

Lennon has been assistant director for several years with the Loscutt's son, James, Jr., also of Andover.

The two 1,350-foot towers of the World Trade Center in New York City occupy only two acres, but can accommodate 130,000 people.

Varteresian Named Manager

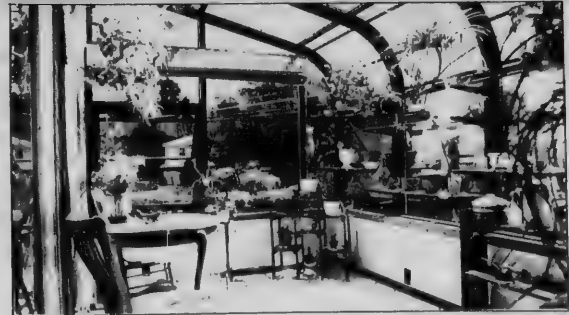

Raytheon Company's Missile Systems Division has appointed Robert E. Varteresian as manager, product assurance for the division and manager, product assurance operations for the plant in Andover.

Varteresian assumes responsibility for managing division-wide quality and product assurance programs and for continuing the successful operation of those programs at the Andover plant where the Patriot and Hawk missile systems are produced. Since joining Raytheon in 1967, he has held increasingly responsible management positions on various product assurance and manufacturing programs. Most recently he managed the Patriot missile manufacturing program.

The plant was commended by the U.S. Army in 1987 for its consistently high levels of product reliability and awarded the designation of certified contractor.

Varteresian has a bachelor's degree in industrial technology from Northeastern University.

CLASS OF '88

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 23, 1988

University Of New Hampshire

Three students from Andover were among 1,900 degree candidates honored at the University of New Hampshire spring commencement ceremonies May 21.

Tod Deery, son of Denny Deery, received a bachelor's degree in civil engineering.

Mary Driscoll, daughter of Dorothy and Arthur Driscoll, received a bachelor's degree in occupational therapy. She plans to complete an internship in occupational therapy.

Steven Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving E. Rogers Jr., received a bachelor's degree in English.

Marcy Peterson Carsey, executive producer for "The Cosby Show" and a 1966 graduate of UNH, delivered the commencement address.

Roger W. Kylberg

Receives Medical Degree

Roger William Kylberg received a Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Texas Medical School at Houston during graduation ceremonies May 27.

Kylberg, son of Dorothy Kylberg and the late William Kylberg of Andover, attended Andover High School and the University of Lowell.

He plans to enter a residency in family practice at Greenville Hospital System, Greenville, S.C.

The University of Texas Medical School is part of The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston, located in the renowned Texas Medical Center.

Wellesley

Elizabeth A. Thomann, daughter of Mrs. Charles Thomann of 20 Brechin Terrace, Andover, was awarded a bachelor of arts degree at Wellesley College on Friday, May 27, when Gloria Steinem, author, journalist and social critic, addressed the 655 members of the graduating class and their guests at the college's 110th commencement exercises.

A 1984 graduate of Andover High School, Thomann majored in biology, graduating cum laude with honors in her major.

Her undergraduate activities included a junior year abroad in Brighton, England, where she attended the University of Sussex. Thomann is doing research for the biology department at Wellesley, funded by an NSF/REU grant and will begin working for Eli Lilly & Co. in August.

Noble and Greenough

An original song, 'As These Dreams Go By,' written and composed by graduating senior Henry Edwards Russell III of Andover was part of the graduation exercises at Noble and Greenough School, Dedham, June 5.

Henry is the son of Anne West Baldwin of Andover and will be starting Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., in the fall.

Boston University

Boston University conducted its 115th commencement exercises in May. Nine Andover residents were among the 4,167 graduates.

Receiving degrees were Malvena M. Baxter, EDD in reading education; Walid Dehni, BA in religion, cum laude; Lawrence G. Kahn, MS in computer science; B.R. Ladeau, MS in computer science; William J. Marasco, MD in medicine; M.W. Miller, MSMB in manufacturing engineering; Sandra L. Rehe, MDiv in religion, culture and personality; Edna M. Somma, MS in administration and nursing service; Susan Y. Watkins, MS in computer science.

Physicist Carlo Rubbia, 1984 Nobel laureate, was the commencement speaker. He called for increased international cooperation in scientific research. This not only speeds progress, he said, but is crucial to world development.

Rubbia said, "This extended cooperation must be intended not to limit but to enhance mobility of ideas and freedom of the scientists within the system. One has to encourage science, not to try to harness it with bureaucracy."

Local Students Graduate From Governor Dummer

Jeffrey D. Abrams

Jordan J. Burgess, Jr.

Christopher DiClemente

Jill Robin Goldman

Todd M. O'Brien

James M. Sullivan

Six Andover students were among the 99 graduates who received their diplomas during the 225th Commencement ceremonies at Governor Dummer Academy in Byfield.

The Hon. Elizabeth Dole, former U.S. Secretary of Transportation and one of the 10 most admired women in the world, gave the commencement address on the lawn of the Mansion House, the oldest building on the campus of the oldest boarding school in the nation.

Dole, who has been mentioned as a possible vice presidential running mate to George Bush, challenged the students to "make a difference for others."

Local graduates include:

Jeffrey D. Abrams has been a member of the varsity ski team, JV lacrosse and golf teams, the staff of the yearbook, the "Milestone," the food committee and Jewish Fellowship and manager of the soccer team.

Jordan J. Burgess has been co-captain and MVP of varsity golf team, a member of the Red Key Service Organization, the staff of the "Milestone," the Big Brother Organization and the senior leadership committee for freshmen. He has been a tour guide and a proctor of the French Building (student center). Burgess will attend Boston College.

Folk Fest

America's finest traditional musicians, dancers, and craftpersons will gather in Lowell, for the 50th National Folk Festival on July 29, 30, and 31, 1988. The National is the oldest multicultural celebration in the country and has been presented in 22 cities since its founding in St. Louis in 1934.

Blues musicians, a Cajun band, classic Hawaiian hula troupe, gospel brass band, American Indian dancers, Vietnamese musicians and a bluegrass band highlight this year's exciting and varied roster of performers. The National Folk Festival is produced by the National Council for the Traditional Arts in Washington D.C. and is co-sponsored by Lowell National Historical Park, the City of Lowell, and the Regatta Festival Committee. All events are free.

Christopher DiClemente has been a member of the varsity soccer and lacrosse teams, a community service volunteer and a tour guide. He will attend Springfield College.

Jill R. Goldman, who won the Mercer Art Prize at graduation, has been art editor of the "Milestone," a director of the French Building, community service volunteer, tour guide and member of the Big Sister Organization, Jewish Fellowship and art club. She was artistic director of the all-student production of "Harvey." Goldman will attend Ithaca College.

Todd M. O'Brien, recently elected to the national Cum Laude Society, was a member of the varsity golf and basketball teams and won the Coache's Award for basketball as a senior. He was a French Building-proctor, head tour guide, dormitory proctor and member of the Big Brother Organization, the social committee and ski club. He was admitted to University of Rochester on early decision.

James M. Sullivan, recently named the top golfer in the Independent School League, was co-captain and MVP of varsity golf, captain of JV soccer, two-year varsity basketball manager, a tour guide and member of the staff of the "Milestone," the varsity club and computer club. He will attend Boston College.

Group Goes Hawaiian

The Bon Secours Hospital Auxiliary has planned a Hawaii fund-raising tour departing Boston Oct. 2 and returning Oct. 14.

Round-trip air travel via United Airlines, a 12-night stay at a hotel, visits to Oahu, Kauai, Maui and Hawaii, some meals, sightseeing and other features are incorporated in the tour price.

Information can be obtained from the Bon Secours Hospital volunteer office or Susan Schumacher, C-1 Colonial Drive.

Bon Secours Auxiliary members have been using travel to raise funds for a number of years. The funds are used to provide Bon Secours with needed equipment and other projects. One project the group has undertaken to completion was the remodeling of the hospital auditorium several years ago.

Trends in Kitchen and Bath Design

by Kevin Hennessey and Sean Walsh

TWO IN ONE

A household of five or more people should have a kitchen that is actually two kitchens in one. For the most part, the primary kitchen handles quick and small kitchen chores. These are the times when one cook is cooking for three or less people. The standard sink-stove-refrigerator work triangle is adequately suited for the job. However, when a live-person-plus meal is in the offing, more elements are required to handle the additional food and cook load. About twenty-five percent of kitchen time is spent in this expanded capacity, one of the best ways to make these times easier is to add a second preparation sink to the kitchen. Located far enough away from the primary cleanup sink, it can handle an entire food-preparation chore without straining the primary work triangle.

To have the perfect kitchen is everyone's dream. Here at VARIATIONS IN WOOD, INC., we can make that dream a reality. Our staff of trained professionals will create for you an area that is accessible, versatile and attractive. Come in soon and let us help you make that dream a reality. VARIATIONS IN WOOD, INC., provides one of a kind kitchens built for you. You will find us conveniently located at 2370 Turnpike St., Route 114. To reach us, call 685-4056.

If room allows, consider giving the preparation sink its own dishwasher.

Ballardvale Church Has New Pastor

Rev. Morrison Starts Job In August

The Rev. Susan J. Morrison has been appointed pastor at Ballard Vale United Church. She will begin her new post Aug. 1.

The new pastor succeeds Rev. Gary Cornell who has been assigned to Chelmsford.

Morrison is a native of Braintree where she graduated from high school in 1964.

She graduated summa cum laude from Wheaton College, Norton, with a bachelor of arts degree in English literature in 1968. At Wheaton she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She received a M.Ed. from Boston College and Perkins School for the Blind in 1970 and served the New Hampshire Department of Special Education for nine years as an itinerant teacher-consultant for the visually handicapped.

Morrison began her studies at Andover Newton Theological School in 1981 and graduated in 1984 with highest honors. She was ordained that year as a deacon in the United Methodist Church. Appointed as associate pastor at Holy Trinity United Methodist Church in Danvers, Morrison completed two required probationary years before being ordained as an elder in 1986. She has been active in the Danvers Clergy Association, a member on the board of directors of the Independent Living Center in Lynn, coordinator of a head- and brain-injured support group in Danvers and was recently appointed by Bishop George Bashore to chair the entrance committee on the Board of Ordained Ministry.

Morrison is married to Jay Morrison, a family therapist, and has three children. Her husband is the clinical director of the Institute for Family and Life Learning in Danvers and teaches in the Graduate School of Social Work at BC. Morrison and her family will move to Andover at the end of the summer.

Cornell To Preach Final Service Sunday

The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor of the Ballardvale United Church for the past six and a half years, will conduct his final service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. It will be a celebration of Holy Communion. Cornell will preach on "Give Her Something to Eat," based on a gospel story in Mark, the fifth chapter. Members of the pastor-parish committee will host a luncheon and program in honor of Cornell, his wife, Margaret, and their three children, Elizabeth, David and Andrew.

United Methodist Bishop George Bashore has appointed Cornell pastor of the West Chelmsford United Methodist Church. He will meet his new congregation and conduct his first service there July 3.

B'Nai B'Rith Women To Hold Bake Sale

B'nai B'rith Women will hold their annual bake sale tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in front of the post office during Sidewalk Sale Days. If it rains, the women will be in front of De Moulas Super Market. They will be selling homemade baked items.

See next page for

Auditions

The Harvard Summer Chorus will hold auditions for its 1988 season June 25 through 27 at Harvard University. Under the direction of Robert Molison, Associate Professor of Music and Director of Choral Activities, Iowa State University, the oratorio chorus of 150 voices is newly formed each summer.

Open to the community, auditions will take place on June 25 from 9 am-12 noon and on Sunday, June 26 and Monday, June 27 from 1-5 pm and 7-10 pm in Paine Music Hall, Rooms 2 and 7, Harvard University.

A good ear, a strong sense of rhythm, vocal richness, and flexibility are sought; sight reading ability is encouraged. Each Tuesday and Thursday evening, rehearsals will be held from 7 to 9:30 pm. Rehearsals begin Tuesday, June 28.

Minister Comes To Andover Baptist

Baptist Rev. Thomas Goldthwaite will preach his first service at the Andover Baptist Church July 10 at 10 a.m.

Goldthwaite, the church's new pastor, is leaving his post as pastor of the First and Seventh Day Baptist Church in Brookfield, N.Y. He started working at the Brookfield church in March, 1975 after finishing his studies at Gordon Conwell Theological Seminary in Hamilton. While in Brookfield, he also preached to the Seventh Day congregation and was for six years chaplain of the fire company.

Goldthwaite has a bachelor of arts degree from Gordon College, where he graduated in 1970. He earned his master of divinity degree with a specialty in parish ministry from Gordon Conwell. The Brookfield church post was his first full-time pastoral position. While a divinity student, Goldthwaite worked at the South Hampton Baptist Church of South Hampton, N.H.

Goldthwaite has held several positions in the Fransego Association and Area III of the American Baptist Churches of New York State. Most recently he served on the Lay Studies Commission and taught the commission's New Testament course.

Under his tenure at Brookfield, many improvements were made to the church buildings, including the addition of a carillon system and a food closet for the area community. The church staff said his term was characterized by steady growth of membership and budget.

Goldthwaite says he enjoys preaching and teaching and has a personal library of several thousand volumes. He was active in the last Billy Graham crusade in upstate New York.

Goldthwaite, who was born and raised in South Hampton, has a wife, Joyce, and three daughters, Yvonne, 18; Rolanda, 17; and Kathryn, 3.

Both Goldthwaites were active in the Brookfield community and have musical skills.

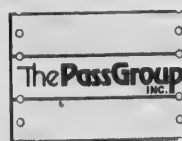

Rev. Thomas Goldthwaite starts his job as pastor of Andover Baptist Church next month. He is pictured here with his wife, Joyce.

OBITUARIES

Robert E. Marland

Robert E. Marland, 84, of George Street, died Monday, June 20, 1988, at Prescott House in North Andover after a long illness.

Mr. Marland was born in Lawrence. He graduated from Johnson High School, North Andover and Wentworth Institute, Boston. He had resided in Andover for the past 50 years.

Mr. Marland retired from New England Telephone Company in 1968 as a Supervisor of Training after 47 years of service. He joined Western Electric in the 1920's and worked for the Bell Labs in Brooklyn, N.Y. He was instrumental in the development of the direct dialing systems. He transferred to the Boston, Framingham, Lowell area becoming the Supervisor of Training.

Mr. Marland was a member of St. Matthews Lodge AF&AM of Andover, the Telephone Pioneers of America, and West Parish Church of Andover, having served as superintendent of Sunday Schools and various church committees.

He was the husband of the late Agnes E. (Morgan) Marland; father of Judith Bullock of Exton, Pa., Gail M. Gray of Marblehead; and grandfather of four.

Funeral service will be today at 11 a.m. at West Parish Church, Andover. Rev. Vern Henderson will be officiating. Burial will follow in Spring Grove Cemetery, Andover.

Memorial contributions may be made to West Parish Church, Reservation Road, Andover, 01810.

Blanche Roussel

Blanche (Bernardin) Roussel, 89, of Lawrence died June 15, 1988, at the MI Nursing/Restorative Center.

From 1947 to 1951, Mrs. Roussel was a teacher at Keith Academy in Lowell, and before her retirement in 1969, she taught business administration courses in the Dracut school system.

She was born in Lawrence and was a graduate of the former Salem Normal School, now known as Salem State College.

While residing in Dracut, she attended St. Louis de France Church in Lowell. Mrs. Roussel was a member of the National Retired Teachers Association.

She was the widow of Charles H. Roussel, and members of her family include a daughter, Suzanne E. Heflin of Methuen; sons, Paul R. Roussel of Hollis, N.H., and Charles M. Roussel of Methuen; a sister, Edmee Bernardin of Andover; a brother, Rene R. Bernardin of Lawrence; nine grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass was held June 17 at St. Monica Church in Methuen. Burial was in St. Joseph Cemetery in East Chelmsford.

Memorial contributions may be made to the MI Restorative and Nursing Health Care Center, Zero Bennington St., Lawrence.

Herbert Kelley

Herbert "Bud" Kelley, 69, of Hampton, N.H., died June 14, 1988, at Portsmouth Regional Hospital in Portsmouth, N.H.

Mr. Kelley was a sales manager for the R.J. McCartney's Clothing Store in Lawrence for many years and most recently was a consultant for Artisan Outlet Store in Portsmouth.

He was born in Revere, and he had lived in Hampton since 1978, coming from Salem, N.H.

He attended Our Lady of Miraculous Medal Church and was a member of the Abenaki Country Club in Rye Beach, N.H., and a former member of the Methuen Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Kelley was a sergeant in the U.S. Army during World War II in the Asiatic-Pacific Theater, and received a Bronze Battle Star.

Members of his family include his wife of 37 years, Gloria M. (Canty) Kelley; sons, Neil J., H. Brian and Jeffrey J. Kelley, all of Hampton; a daughter, Nancy K. Rand of Andover; sisters, Helen Shine of Hampton and Dorothy Coyne of Arlington; and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass was celebrated June 18 at Our Lady of Miraculous Medal Church. Burial was in High Street Cemetery.

Edward H. Damon

Edward H. Damon, 83, of Bartlesville, Okla., formerly of North Billerica, died June 15, 1988, at the Jane Phillips Medical Center in Bartlesville.

Mr. Damon was born in Seneca Falls, N.Y. He graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1927.

Mr. Damon served as the vice president of Phillips Petroleum Co. in Bartlesville until his retirement.

Members of his family include his wife, Shirley (Harris) Damon; a son, Robert Damon of Alton, Ill.; daughters, Ann Weeks of Greenville, Texas, and Joan Pennes of Kansas City, Mo.; and a brother, Oliver Damon of Andover.

There were no funeral services.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Bluestem Regional Medical Development Foundation, care of Ann Redeker, 3500 East Frank Phillips Blvd., Bartlesville, Okla. 74006; or to the Jane Phillips Hospice Program at 3400 East Frank Phillips Blvd.

William A. Arseneau

William A. Arseneau, 94, formerly of Seabrook, N.H., died June 15, 1988, at the Veterans Hospital in Manchester, N.H.

Mr. Arseneau was a real estate agent in Seabrook before his retirement.

Born in Amesbury, he was an Army veteran of World War I, having served in France.

Mr. Arseneau was a charter member of the Richard F. O'Brien Post 2016 Veterans of Foreign Wars in Amesbury and was a life member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks Lodge No. 909 in Newburyport.

He was the widower of Harriett L. (Boyd) Arseneau, and members of his family include a daughter, Beatrice Dowell of North Andover; grandchildren, Deanna Carney of Windham, N.H., and D'Arcy Dowell of Andover; seven great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

A Mass was held June 18 at St. Joseph Church in Amesbury. Burial was in Hillside Cemetery in Seabrook.

James P. Glavin

James P. Glavin, 82, of Lawrence, died Thursday, June 16, 1988, at his home.

Prior to his retirement 20 years ago, Mr. Glavin was a licensed practical nurse at Danvers State Hospital. After his retirement he played with a band in Florida for various senior citizens groups.

He was born in Methuen and was a life resident of Greater Lawrence. He attended St. Monica Church.

He was a past commander of the Methuen Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Members of his family include a son, James P. Jr. of Danvers; a sister, Mrs. Kay Crawley of Andover; four grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were Monday morning at Charles F. Dewhurst Funeral Home, Methuen. Burial was in Immaculate Conception Cemetery.

John Lawrie Sr.

John Lawrie Sr., 73, of Lawrence died Saturday, June 18, 1988, at Bon Secours Hospital.

Mr. Lawrie was employed at Tyer Rubber Co. in Andover for 35 years before his retirement.

Born in Andover, he had lived in Greater Lawrence all his life. He attended St. Augustine Church, Tower Hill.

Members of his family include his wife, Mrs. Bertha (Berube) Lawrie of Lawrence; daughters, Carol Viens of Dracut and Priscilla Gregas of Rockland; sons, Daniel of Methuen and John of Fort Walton, Fla.; sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Dufresne of Andover, June Anderson of Tewksbury; a brother, William of Tewksbury; 10 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

A memorial Mass was celebrated Wednesday morning in St. Augustine Church, Tower Hill.

Eugene W. Jordan

Eugene W. Jordan, 84, of Florida, formerly of Andover, died June 19, 1988, at the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Brockton after a long illness.

Mr. Jordan was born in Peabody and graduated from Peabody High School in 1921 and from the Wentworth Institute in 1923. He served in the Marine Corps from 1923 to 1932.

Upon his discharge, he moved to Andover and worked at the former Arlington mills in Lawrence, retiring as chief engineer before moving to Florida.

Surviving him are a son, attorney Robert J. Jordan of Boston; two sisters, Esther Walker of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Agnes M. Jordan of West Newbury.

A Mass was held Wednesday at St. Adelaide's Church in West Peabody. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, West Peabody.

Bike Tour

The time is drawing near for Massachusetts cyclists to start pedaling for the Multiple Sclerosis Society's Great Mass Getaway 150 Bike Tour sponsored by BUD LIGHT, WBZ-TV 4, and KISS 108. The weekend Tour will take place July 9th and 10th and will treat 700 cyclists to a mini vacation on wheels as they ride to raise over $250,000.00 for the battle against MS.

The Great Mass Getaway is a particularly exciting event as it draws people from all over the state, attracting both corporate and individual interest.

Along with a beautiful and well-planned cycling route from Haverhill to Durham,

Saturday, July 9 also includes a clambake and entertainment at the University of New Hampshire. On Sunday, the Tour will travel back to Haverhill along the shoreline and will culminate with a celebration dinner.

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 23, 1988

Andover Townsman To Mark Its Centennial

Andover's own newspaper, The Andover TOWNSMAN, will be celebrating in July.

Having served the community for over a century, the newspaper will mark that significant anniversary with a special section in the July 21 issue and complete the celebration with Publisher Irving E. Rogers Jr. hosting a dinner for Andover officials and businessmen that evening at the Andover Marriott.

The special section is being planned to convey a theme showing how the TOWNSMAN has served the Andover community for the past 100 years. Front pages of the newspaper will be reproduced showing significant national events being reported along with important local news every Thursday since the first issue was published Oct. 14, 1887.

The section will also include historical photos and news indicating the growth the town and the newspaper have enjoyed over the years.

While the newspaper has consistently kept the pulse of the Andover community, it has also kept pace with the industry itself, being among the first in the area to use the photo offset method of producing the weekly paper.

It was in 1951 that the decision was made to go the newer, modern method of newspaper production which resulted in better production methods and particularly sharper photo reproductions.

It was a far cry from the handset operations that produced the first TOWNSMAN in 1887.

The newspaper got its start through John N. Cole, owner of the Andover Press. Nine years after the founding of the paper the Andover Press moved to a new building at 60 Main St., at the corner of Chestnut. The building still bears the Andover Press sign on its brick front. In addition to publishing the TOWNSMAN, the Press produced college yearbooks, college textbooks and programs.

In 1932 Elmer Grover was named editor and in 1938 he purchased the TOWNSMAN from the Andover Press and remained as its publisher until 1947 when the property was sold to Joshua Lilly.

In 1949 Andover Publishing Co., under the direction of the late Irving E. Rogers Sr., owner of the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune, purchased the TOWNSMAN.

The paper has had different formats over the years, beginning as a broadsheet. For a brief time in the late 1930's and early '40's it was published in a magazine style before adopting the popular tabloid format it has maintained.

Meeting Results In Confusion

By Julie M. Barry

There was a great deal of confusion associated with the meaning of the vote at the Special Town Meeting Monday night.

The warrant was overwhelmingly defeated by a vote of 1153 to 200. But the effect it will have on the School Committee's action towards the study is yet to be determined. Members will discuss their next step at their June 28 meeting.

Just what does a "no" vote imply? This was a question raised by Deborah Moggio of Hidden Road.

Moderator James Doherty said defeating the article does not prevent the School Committee from furthering their study. "The School Committee is autonomous," he said.

The town meeting vote may indicate the sentiment of the town. But he said "if members of the School Committee feel they should...pursue the concept of a collaborative school, they have the right to do that."

What does a "no" vote mean to the committee members?

"I think it would be irresponsible of the committee not to take into careful consideration the vote at this Town Meeting," said committee member Margo Tilghman. "We need to weigh the benefits and the costs, both educationally and financially (of the proposal)."

"I really do hope that I have the opportunity to look at this proposal in a careful, thorough and measured manner, not as a knee-jerk response at a town meeting that I feel was called before it was warranted," she continued.

Committee member Michael Frishman, a supporter of the project said "it is my feeling at this time that I still need more time to study this issue, and I fully intend to."

Donald Robb, School Committee chairman, said the mood at Town Meeting was a clear message for the School Committee. But, he said, "I'm sorry that's the message tonight because I think we had an opportunity to look into something that might have been of value."

"Now, you're asking us to take your vote tonight and say, 'That issue is dead forever; that can never again be discussed by the the School Committee.' I think that's wrong," Robb added.

Committee member Susan Poore says the vote at Town Meeting should have an effect on the group's further action. "I don't know what I'll do next Tuesday night when the School Committee meets to discuss the Town Meeting," she said.

Before voting, many residents expressed their attitudes toward the proposed school.

Bob Wescott of York Street said collaboration could be done less expensively. The real issue, he said, is how to teach teachers and kids, and how to do it with less money. "I vote 'no' without malice," Wescott said.

Several people said they would be voting against the warrant article. But they noted that this did not indicate a "no" vote to the concept of the Collaborative School.

Christopher Haynes of Brady Loop said he would be voting against the article. "Vote 'no,'" he said, "but keep on thinking."

Others were prepared to vote to put an end to the project. "I'm ready

Parking Committee Eliminated

By Frank Messina

Following the town manager's recommendation, the Board of Selectmen decided to eliminate the Parking Committee on Monday and turn over the group's duties to the Planning Board.

Town Manager Ken Mahony said his recommendation to liquidate the committee was made known to the selectmen before the group turned in a final report that was highly critical of town government at last week's selectmen's meeting.

"The Planning Board was not really happy when the Parking Committee was created (last year)," said Mahony. "They (the Planning Board) feel that parking is part of the planning process."

After reviewing the Parking Committee's performance over the past year, Mahony said he felt parking issues were better handled by the Planning Board.

The town manager said his recommendation was unrelated to the committee's final report which charged town hall, the planning staff in particular, with a lack of cooperation.

Reading the three-page report to selectmen last week, committee Chairman Christine Holmes said "The committee members made a good-faith effort to deal with the parking issues and, frankly, do not feel that the town reciprocated."

Holmes went on to list several incidents, including claims that the fire department failed to answer repeated requests to meet over parking issues and the failure of the town manager's office to notify them about a defeated town warrant article package of committee recommendations that included a controversial parking meter proposal at last April's town meeting. "We would never have suggested the parking meters be in the same package," Holmes said in the report.

Asked to comment about the disavowment of the committee and other details concerning the report, Holmes said she preferred to wait until the Selectmen reacted to the report before discussing the issues further.

Mahony called the alleged com-

OPINION

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 23, 1988

Confusion

Monday night's town meeting decision on the proposed Lawrence-Andover Collaborative school would appear to have led to additional confusion on the important issue of Andover's educational future.

The matter of whether to further pursue the collaborative school proposal is now in the hands of the Andover school committee which will meet Tuesday night to decide in the matter.

There is indication that the project will remain alive with at least three members of the committee having given support to the project previously.

The vote Monday night was not really a death knell for the project.

Town administrators as well as proponents of the school agreed that acceptance of the proposal at this time was unjustified based on insufficient information relative to costs, maintenance, participation, etc.

While opponents of the school may have been heartened by the 6-1 margin of defeat, there is still the possibility that the matter will again be before Andover voters.

And, there is more to think about than just the collaborative school when the final decision is made.

There is need for upgrading of Andover schools as well as the possibility of new school construction in the not too distant future.

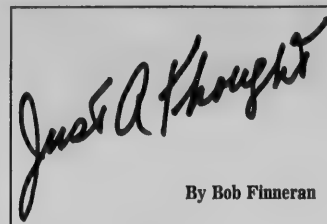

State funding of such construction is not as easy to come by as it once was, due to budget deficits. State building assistance is now prioritized rather than granting blanket approval to most all requests.

Under such circumstances, necessary improvements or needed new construction might well be denied Andover, thus leaving Andover taxpayers to foot the bill on their own.

Too, there is consideration of how much funding will be available for the collaborative school, based on current state budget problems.

For these reasons, it seems logical to continue to look into the Lawrence-Andover proposal as a possible solution to some of the problems facing both communities in the near future.

It is better to take the time necessary to examine all the options, rather than closing doors and having to regret the opportunity to resolve problems of an educational and financial nature later.

By Bob Finneran

There is something about signs that's fascinating.

Don't know whether it's just the placement of them, or the absence of thought, but occasionally you can run across some beauts.

There is of course the outstanding one in a back road in New Hampshire where a combined diner and gasoline station is located.

From some distance away you can spot on the roof, "Eat - Get Gas"

Then there is the less than appealing sign witnessed last summer at the site of a country store on Route 133 going toward Ipswich.

The business catered to the neighborhood as well as to fishermen.

And, on a nice August day their specialty was proclaimed in bright lights—Fresh Corn (top line).

Underneath 'Worms.'

But a most interesting sign was pointed out to me by an associate this past week.

For all the years I've been going through Elm Square I never noticed the directional sign in front of Memorial Hall Library.

Now, here is a library, loaded with books, periodicals, etc. And, there on a big, green sign just off a little from the main entrance is an admonition—No Reading.

Of course, the sign advises how many miles it is to the next town, which happens to be North Reading.

But, then, with the construction project at Memorial Hall Library moving along at a snail's pace, the state directional sign might actually be appropriate.

The particular sign is but one of a maze of posted advisories in the downtown area. As a matter of fact, from Phillips Academy to Shawshen Square, a sign-maker could probably retire with the proliferation of warnings, directions, etc.

Several years ago selectmen would respond to traffic or parking problems by ordering a sign posted regulating speed or prohibiting parking.

It is, of course, somewhat pleasant to drive along Main street and notice the various items such as arrows, don't block intersection (which nobody pays any attention to) and the best, direction to the municipal parking lot, which is really an invitation to one, be frustrated at attempting to find a spot and two, to get fined for being about 30 seconds over the meter limit.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — May 1888

The spring tournament of the P.A. Athletic Association took place on the school campus Wednesday afternoon. The rain, which fell along towards noon, probably deterred a good many from attending but those who did saw a very interesting exhibition.

The town hall was well filled last Friday night, the occasion being the benefit entertainment tendered by Mr. Robert S. Hill.

We are glad to hear that a little will be done to remind the people of the 4th of July. A Committee will fire the national salute during the day. This seems a pretty small observance of independence day, but it is now too late to think of any special celebration, even if there was that disposition and another year will pass with the same old quiet place on the "fourth."

Mr. William D. Stark is improving his estate on Tewksbury street by building a neat substantial face wall on the southern and western sides of his residence. The beauty and utility of maple shade trees on the southern terrace is still unimpaired.

Miss Maggie Day of Boston was in town calling on friends on Tuesday night.

The large number of parents and friends in attendance at the examinations of the various departments of the Grammar school building on Friday last, could not fail to produce a salutary effect upon the teachers and pupils who acquitted themselves in a most creditable manner. The singing, recitation, and general discipline of the schools were of superior quality.

75 Years Ago — May 1913

The Class Day exercises took place on Wednesday afternoon on the lower edge of the Punchard grounds opposite the park. The exercises opened with a well delivered address of welcome given by J. Everett Collins, president of the class.

Miss Mary Mitchell has entered the employ of M.T. Walsh as bookkeeper.

50 Years Ago — May 1938

Andover's tax rate this year is $29.00, an increase of $2.20 over last year's rate but at least $1.50 under the estimates made at town meeting.

Warren Christie, ten-year-old crippled youngster, was rescued from possible death yesterday morning when Herbert Early found him in a smoke-filled house off Boston road.

A fire of suspicious origin last night destroyed a four-room camp off Woburn street, the property of Charles Stewart of Cambridge. A large crowd was attracted to the scene by the glare in the sky.

The noblest gift in the history of Phillips academy would have to be a pretty noble gift, but Headmaster Dr. Claude M. Fuess was able to give that description at the annual alumni meeting last Friday to the gift of a 17-acre estate in Washington from Henry L. Stimson, president of the board of trustees and secretary of state under Herbert Hoover.

A transfer of $5,000 from the reserve fund to the Board of Public Works was granted by the finance committee last night at a joint meeting of the selectmen, B.P.W., finance committee and tree warden.

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 23, 1988

Disenfranchised

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

I am writing to express discomfort with one of the suggestions made at Monday night's town meeting—the suggestion that town meeting is the purest form of democracy. While I recognize its historical importance and am happy to work within its guidelines as long as it is the governing structure for Andover, I believe that there is a problem with town meeting that makes it a less than ideal form of democracy. This problem is that any resident who cannot be physically present on the occasion of town meeting is disenfranchised.

This is no trivial problem. As I looked around the room Monday night, I saw many husbands without wives and wives without husbands. Half the couple was present; the other half was home taking care of the children. It is all well and good to argue that those who truly care about an issue will find a way to be present at town meeting, but the fact remains that, for voters with children, there exists a very real obstacle to participating in democracy. Parents must find and pay for a babysitter. It seems to me that there should be no price attached to participating in democracy—not even the price of hiring a babysitter.

Moreover, notably absent last night were many of my colleagues on the faculty of Phillips Academy. This town meeting was scheduled after the close of Phillips' regular academic year and before the start of its summer session. Weddings, vacations, visits with relatives planned long in advance of any notification of town meeting prevented a sizeable number of faculty from participating last night. Many of the faculty are long-time residents who have been vitally involved in the affairs of this town. Many are parents of children who do or will attend the Andover public schools. All are knowledgeable about and interested in education; they have devoted their careers to education and certainly deserved the chance to vote on a matter bearing so significantly to their livelihoods. Indeed, all town residents who were unable to attend last night's meeting because of family and business commitments deserved this chance.

The champions of town meeting argue for the importance of an open discussion prior to voting. I support this argument. However, I do not feel that there is a notable advantage to having discussion at the exact moment of a vote. There have been numerous forums on the topic of the collaborative school in the preceding months. I attended three such meetings, two held by interested parties and one by the League of Women Voters. I learned far more about the school and heard many more arguments, both pro and con, at these meetings than I did last night. Furthermore, I had the luxury of time to think about what I had heard, to do further investigation, to raise questions and have them answered before forming my opinion. For many, if not most, town residents, it is not the impassioned speeches made on the night of town meeting that determine their vote on sensitive issues; rather, it is a careful, studious examination of all the facts and opinions that they're able to gather over the course of weeks and months. Clearly, useful discussion of the issues can continue even if town meeting does not.

Champions of town meeting also argue for the importance of voicing opinions to elected town officials. Again, I am in agreement with the sentiment but do not see that town meeting is essential to its attainment. There are many means through which elected officials are made to "hear" the people. First, there is the election itself. Candidates take stands on issues. When we elect one candidate over another, we make clear which issues we support and which we do not. Secondly, there are many opportunities to voice opinions to officials once they are in office; voters are free to write letters individually, collect signatures and submit petitions, attend and speak out at meetings of the governing bodies. While circumstances necessarily prevent every voter from attending any given town meeting, no one is prevented from expressing opinions through the means just described.

I grew up in a community that was governed by elected representatives of the people. Important and/or sensitive issues were voted on in ballot elections. In my opinion, ballot elections that allow for absentee voting go a long way towards preventing disenfranchisement. It is relatively easy to bring children along to the polling station. Alternatively, parents can vote at different times during the day, preventing the need to hire a babysitter. Furthermore, persons who know in advance that they will be out of town on the day of an election need not be excluded from the democratic process.

I am happy that democracy is alive and well in the town of Andover but hope that we will not sit back smugly and assume that our form of governance, the town meeting in its current configuration, is necessarily the best. Let's face up to the fact that our town meeting requires some voters to pay for the right to participate in democracy and prevents others from participating at all.

Disappointed

To The Tax Collector

It is with a sense of anger coupled with a great deal of sadness that I send this letter with your calculated interest payment of $14.01 ("based on a 14 percent per annum rate from April 1") for a tax bill received seven days past May 1.

It has nothing to do with the legality of the charges, which are made quite clear in the fine print, but the ever-increasing tragedy of government today is the loss of individual integrity and the sense of "fairness" in dealing with the taxpayers in general by our paid public servants.

Members of my preceding family, the Stevens, the Klines and the Boyds, have paid taxes to the town of Andover since the 1700s.

I would be willing to wager the homestead itself that the taxes have never been late in those 200 years.

It would seem, in even this bureaucratic maze of ever increasing government in our lives, that a few days tardiness in a tax bill when the taxes had been increased more than 50 percent (from $304.10 to $879) might be overlooked for a family piece of property tax that has been consistently paid on time for well over two centuries.

I live in Rhode Island and get to Massachusetts only once or twice a month as a rule, and because of the marked increase in the rate over previous years, I held back on the check to be sure it would be adequately "covered" before mailing from Providence.

Before my mother died, she spoke of donating our parcel of Andover land to the town. I think of her idea in a much different light now.

My disappointment in your "tax collecting system" is profound as there may, indeed, be extenuating circumstances for any taxpayer, especially after a dramatic rise in the rates as Andover recently decided. I, unfortunately, do not have the luxury of voting or having any input into your tax collecting policies in Massachusetts and have little recourse but to write a letter, as I'm sure the impersonalized trend in government will continue on and most likely worsen.

George K. Boyd, M.D.

Appreciative

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

The Andover Cable Advisory Committee thanks all the Andover citizens who supported the ATC (Andover Television Center Channel 12) Telethon held May 15. The group of dedicated high school students, supervised by Maureen Lindsey, transformed the high school cable TV studio and the foyer of the Collins Center into three studio sets and a phone bank to accommodate five hours of live and pre-taped programming.

Assistance came from many people: Dr. Seifert, Tim Thomas, Molly Ryden, Frank Paul and Jim Reilly of the school department, Leone's Furniture, Scanlon's Hardware, Imagine That, Malco Electronics, Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative Project, Huntington Mills, Trumpeters, Justin's and Rembrandt's. Various people donated food for workers. Special thanks to Bernice Pierce and Dave Nichols from the local Special Olympics, the town manager, school committee members and selectmen, Peg Alexander of DCS, Jay Leno, the AHS Jazz Band and other "live" talent and all who called in to pledge support for a terrific effort by our capable, talented students, as well as two worthy causes: Special Olympics and the Andover Television Center. Thank you all.

munication problems "absolute nonsense."

Over the past year, there were no complaints whatsoever from the parking committee regarding cooperation or any of the specific charges made by the report, said Mahony.

"I have told everybody here (in town hall) to give them anything they want," said Mahony.

At Monday's board meeting, Selectman Gerald Silverman, who was liaison to the parking committee, echoed Mahony's comments, telling Holmes that he hadn't heard any complaints from the group all year.

Holmes replied that many of the problems came to a head after the Town Meeting and that other details did not become clear until recently.

Mahony rebutted charges made in the report, saying that Fire Chief Harold Hayes told selectmen that he never received any requests or messages from the committee.

In regards to the town warrant, Mahony pointed out that the parking meter warrant was made public at a selectmen's meeting that Holmes attended several months before the town meeting.

The report also singled out the planning department. According to the document, planners:

- Refused to discuss development proposals affecting parking issues.
- Refused a request to provide a map of town-owned land.
- Disclosed at an unnamed public meeting that parking requirements at the old Andover Lanes downtown bowling alley site might be reduced in exchange for access at the controversial Champy-Shetland affordable housing project.

Ben Osgood, owner of the former Andover Lanes property, is currently suing the town for turning down his request to reduce parking standards at a planning board meeting earlier this spring.

Nancy Jeton, the town's principal planner, said the allegations were "extremely misleading."

The planning department, she said, only declined to talk about development projects that were being litigated.

Jeton said she didn't refuse to show the committee the town-owned land map. "The map is available to anyone. I did tell them that I wouldn't go over it with them because I've gone over the map in detail with the two previous parking committees."

luded to was the "choice" factor. Proponents, he said, maintain that the school should be an available choice. "I should not have to pay for their choice with my teachers and my taxes," he said.

In ending his presentation, Dziadul encouraged everyone to vote according to their belief. "It's time to stop this divisiveness," he said. His 40-minute presentation got a standing ovation from the crowd.

School Committee Chairman Donald Robb made it clear that the School Committee has not yet taken a formal position on the concept of the school. The committee did approve the idea and follow-up study of a Collaborative School, he said.

But, the idea is complex, he said, and it requires a great deal of study. "The committee itself has only recently begun to deal with the myriad of issues before us," Robb said.

School Committee member Susan Poore, an opponent of the project, questioned the committee's action to date. She said the committee had approved a six-month study, and now, 18 months later, "we're way off target."

Upon the School Committee's request, Dennis Richards, Collaborative School project director, gave an update on the proposed school.

He reviewed the project's history, features of the school, the agreement and tasks that still need approval.

In discussing the features, Richards said, "that assumption of making the school a benefit to the local school systems has been the intent behind the project."

Not one town committee or board recommended approval of the article.

The School Committee recommended disapproval citing lack of information at the time of the town meeting. "We are still in the process of discussing, investigating, raising issues and asking questions," Robb said.

Joanne Marden, chairman of the Finance Committee, said a favorable vote wasn't appropriate because of a lack of financial information and because FinCom questions the wording of some key areas in the working agreement.

The Board of Selectmen also recommended disapproval.

State Rep. Susan Tucker (D-Andover) explained why the state was interested in funding the Collaborative School feasibility study.

It's a way to bring students from different backgrounds together, she said. "We're (the state) putting hundreds of millions of dollars into equal educational opportunities," Tucker said.

Giving teachers more power and control is another issue at the state level. The Collaborative School project staff is looking at innovative ways to "put (teaching) farther up on the professional totem pole," she said.

Lastly, Tucker said the school would give local residents a choice. "There are different parental instincts," she said.

The meaning of a "no" vote caused some confusion. A "no" vote would defeat the article at hand. But many who are opposed to the article at this time said they do not oppose the concept.

Confusion

to make a decision on the fate of the Collaborative School tonight," said Peter Cerniglia of Worthen Place. "This is not an appropriate issue to go ahead with."

The defeat of the article at the Special Town Meeting doesn't guarantee the end to the Collaborative School project.

Still, Jack Dziadul, head of Citizens for Neighborhood Schools, the group opposed to the Collaborative School and the one that brought the issue before the town Monday, said he was "extremely pleased" with the outcome. "We wanted to provide a referendum to the School Committee," Dziadul said.

Pirates, Cardinals Tied

By Jim Arnold

The Pirates have stormed to a first-place tie with the Cardinals in the National Majors Division of the Andover League. Both clubs are 4-2 in the season's second half, with two games to play.

Bill Batchelder's Mets handed the Cards a loss and are still in contention with a 3-3 ledger.

The Cardinals won the season's first half. If they win the second half, they will advance to the town championship. Should the Pirates or Mets win the second half, a one-game playoff will determine the league champion.

Mets 12 - Cardinals 2

The Cardinals had rung up a lopsided win last week, but the Mets, now 3-3, kept their second-half playoff hopes alive this time around.

Five Mets crossed the plate in inning one. Two more came around in the second and three in third.

Paul Allard hurled a complete game victory and had four hits in four trips to the plate. Chris Halecki had three hits while Matt Chapin and Ryan Moynihan also hit the ball. Scott Munroe and Moynihan led the defense with numerous assists.

Jeff Hesenius had a single and double for the Cardinals, Frank Morris belted a double and Jim Stratton tallied two hits.

Pirates 5 - Cardinals 3

A three-run third inning gave the Pirates a cushion they would not relinquish and lifted Manager Bob Pisco's club into a first-place tie with the Cardinals. Jason Caverly and Matt Marvin each had big hits and Alex Mar-

Named Tennis Captain

Tara Swift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swift of Andover, was named girls' varsity tennis captain for next year at Tilton School's recent spring athletic banquet.

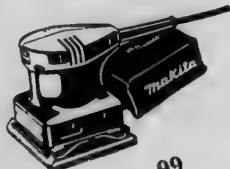

Coach Gail Armstrong said "Based on the enthusiasm and dedication Tara displayed this season, she will undoubtedly be an outstanding leader next year."

Swift is a junior and second-year student.

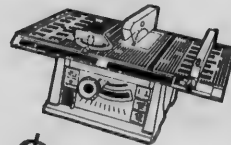

This year's team had a 6 and 5 record.

Netmen Just Fall Shy

By Rick Harrison

For the second straight year the Andover High boys' varsity tennis team fell one victory shy of the state Division 2 title, and for the second straight year the boys from Sharon High were the stumbling block.

The Golden Warriors reached the state final last week with an impressive 4-1 triumph over Western Mass. champion Holyoke High, a match that included a trio of three-set marathons (two won by Andover).

The victory was Andover's fifth straight in 1988 tourney play, setting up the long-awaited rematch with Eastern Mass. South powerhouse Sharon.

Last year Sharon eked out a 3-2 decision over the locals, but this time around it wasn't as close as the veteran defending state champs whipped the Golden Warriors 4-1 in the final.

The loss capped another superb campaign for coach Mike Wartman's club, which emerged as co-champion of the Merrimack Valley Conference with Lowell, won its second straight Eastern Mass. Division 2 North crown, and closed at 20-2 overall.

AHS All-Scholastic and Merrimack Valley Conference MVP Jeff Hechemy, although dropping two tough matches in the states, completed another outstanding year with a 25-3 individual won-lost record.

Andover, 4-1

Andover swept the doubles and received singles' victories from freshman No. 2 Chris Chiang and No. 3 Steve Napolitano en route to the state semifinal victory over Holyoke at the neutral Southeastern Mass. University courts in Dartmouth.

The No. 1 doubles tandem of Pete Kannam and Scott Clementi roared from behind to overtake Holyoke's Chris White and Mark Moreau 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Hugh Maginnis and Steve Gack had a slightly easier time, although Mike Pargergas and Mike Mahoney of Holyoke put up a good fight before being subdued 7-5, 7-6. AHS won the second-set tiebreaker 7-3.

Chiang was also forced to battle from behind, losing the first set to Dan Beauregard 4-6 before rallying for 7-5, 6-2 wins.

Napolitano, who proved himself the strongest No. 3 player in the state this year, waltzed to a 6-0, 6-1 triumph over Holyoke's Dennis Champagne.

Hechemy, whose only previous loss this spring was in the Eastern Mass. North Sectional Individual Tournament title match to Lexington's Lubos Kozek, dropped the ultimate heartbreaker in a third set tiebreaker.

Jeff Morineau won the opening set 6-3, Hechemy took the second set 6-2, and then shall drove home a run.

Marvin threw three strong innings, surrendering just two hits. Toby Guzowski relieved in the fourth and struck out six before being lifted with two outs in the sixth.

The Cards tallied for three runs in the sixth. But, with the bases loaded and two out, 10-year-old Caverly relieved and coaxed a ground out to seal the Pirates' victory.

Louis Capobianco racked a long double for the Pirates and Peter Daniels laid down a perfect bunt single.

Standings: Cardinals 4-2; Pirates 4-2; Mets 3-3; Cubs 2-4; Braves 1-5.

Andover's traveling teams ended their season over the past two weekends. The Furies, Wrecking Crew and Cosmos won their division championships and have earned well-deserved congratulations for their accomplishment. In-town divisions played their next-to-last matches.

Under 16 Division

Cyclones 1 - Concord 0

Andover and Concord played scrappy ball in the second half and the Cyclones connected for the game when Anne Murnane blasted in a pass from Leigh Ann Catanzaro. BOW: Coach Catanzaro and Assistant Coach Duff.

Lowell 2 - Wrecking Crew 1

Andover's Ken Gable scored on an assist by Chris Merrill, but the game was tied at the half. Although the Wrecking Crew had several shots on goal, Lowell claimed the victory. Despite this loss, the Wrecking Crew's fine season record put them at the top of their division. BOW: Dave Edwards, Dan Surdam and special thanks to coaches Bob Selvitelli and Rick Skipton.

Under 14 Division

Furies 0 - Westford 0

Division champs, the Furies played Westford to a scoreless tie to end their season unbeaten. BOW: Amy Heseltine, Amy Kenney, Holly Parker, Coach Milora and the entire team.

Under 12 Division

Pro-Cons 3 - Adidas 1

The fast-running Pro-Cons held the offense line and dominated the first half of the game, scoring three tallies, one each from Lenore Mullet, Missy Famighlietti and Andrea Calanzaro. Stephanie Casey put one in the net for the Adidas in the fourth quarter with the help of Cathy Zappala. BOW: Gail Rollins, Sara Bryce Marchessault and Jamie Baron (Adidas) and Nina Zincola, Amanda Shulman and Kristin Brady (Pro-Cons).

Reeboks 3 - Nikes 2

Nikes took control of the first quarter with two tallies, the first by Katie Jurdi, assisted by Kelly Mitchell, and the second by Debbie Barry, assisted by Maura Paone. Kristen Chaisson put one in the net for the Reeboks in the third quarter with the help of Sarah Moss. The Reeboks cinched the win with fourth quarter tallies by Jennifer Aylward, assisted by Andrea Wojtkun, and Lauren Ofria. BOW: Carolyn Vallee, Ingrid Malmberg and Jennifer Griffin (Nikes) and Emily Burritt, Caroline Tully and Wojtkun (Reeboks).

Jaguars 4 - Lamborghinis 2

After a scoreless first quarter, Lamborghinis' Jeff Forlizzi tallied with the help of Andy Houston. The Jaguars' Ben Haddon scored a solo tally, Jon Adams put one in the net with the help of Eric Marquis and Adams maintained the lead with a successful corner kick. Andrew Hsu scored for the Lamborghinis with the help of Dana DiFiore and Houston. Jaguars assured the win with a final Haddon tally, assisted by Adams. BOW: Byron Lee, Keith Robinson and Michael Scarpulla (Lamborghinis) and Peter Afarian, John Kulp and Jason Nicholson (Jaguars).

Class Race

The fifth annual "Run with CLASS" five-mile road race is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 11, with a 1 p.m. start at the Cedarvale Athletic Club on Route 125 in Haverhill. More than $5,000 in gifts have been donated by local businesses. For more information, call Chris Lionette at Citizens League for Adult Special Services, 1 Parker St., Lawrence.

Maseratis 4 - Mercedes 3

Following a first-quarter goal by the Mercedes, the Maseratis had a first-quarter tally of their own by Mike Maguire, assisted by Eric Stoltz, followed by a second-quarter tally by John Hancock, assisted by Rob Rygwalski. Mercedes gained two more points in the final half, but Pat Russo saved the day by scoring two fourth-quarter tallies, the second a penalty kick. BOW: Ronnie Hancock, Alan Arstein and Gaurav Gupta (Maseratis).

Lamborghiniis 8 - Thunderbirds 0

The Lamborghiniis scored three tallies in the first quarter of the game: Chris Hoffman, assisted by Jeff Pothier and Dana DiFiore; DiFiore, assisted by Hoffman; Pothier, assisted by DiFiore.

In the second quarter Sean Gilbridge put another one in the net with the help of Hoffman and Keith Robinson. Then Robinson scored with an assist from Pothier. Pothier tallied in the fourth quarter with a Hoffman assist and Andy Houston maneuvered the last two points with an assist by Peter Volpe and a double assist by Volpe and DiFiore. BOW: Ryan Lisiak and Ken Woods (Thunderbirds) and Jason Croteau and Andrew Hsu (Lamborghiniis).

Watermelons 2 - Peaches 2

The Watermelons' Lauren Martin made an unassisted goal in the first quarter. Mary Beth Noona, assisted by Amanda Piercy, scored in the third quarter. Then the Peaches rallied with a fourth-quarter goal by Vanessa Blank from Meg Guiliano and despite excellent goalkeeping by Lindsay Corcoran, Blank scored again to tie the game. BOW: Justine Salazar, Martin and Corcoran (Watermelons); Blank and Guiliano (Peaches).

Bears 5 - Bobcats 4

Bobcat Ravi Tharisayi scored in the first period, assisted by Paul Pennelli and Matt Guenther. The Bears kicked one in during the second to tie the score. Guenther scored in the third period with help from Andrew Ede and Todd Zinicola followed, assisted by Ricky Caruso. Bears caught up with two more goals. Tharisayi put in the Bobcats' fourth goal and the Bears kicked in two more to win the game. BOW: Kelvin Liv (Bobcats).

Bengals 5 - Lions 4

Bengals' Patrick Annese led off with a goal in the first, assisted by Brendan Long. Long then kicked in one with help from Jason Monarca.

Lions took over with goals by Tim Campbell and Matt Yost to tie it up at halftime.

Bengals' Long, assisted by Matt Murphy, scored, then Campbell and Yost scored for the Lions. Jason Masielo and Andy Baron assisted. Long scored again and so did Greg Carlson to win the game for the Bengals. BOW: Ross Fenton and Andy Baron (Lions) and Chris Ataide, Teddy Crandall and Keith D'Amelio (Bengals).

Surette, Abernathy, Russell Captains

By Rick Harrison

Steve Surette, Keith Abernathy and John Russell have been elected tri-captains of the 1989 Andover High varsity baseball team.

That announcement, along with the naming of Surette as the Golden Warriors' Most Valuable Player for 1988, highlighted a recent season-ending cookout for the AHS varsity, junior varsity and Doherty freshman players at Jim Loscutoff's Camp Evergreen in Harold Parker State Forest.

Coaches Dave Bettencourt (varsity), Dan Grams (JV) and Ted Boudreau (Doherty) were on hand to pass out awards to their top performers.

West freshmen coach Ken Maglio, meanwhile, also named his team's award winners recently.

Tigers 5 - Wildcats 3

After a scoreless first quarter, Tigers' Alex Tommasino scored, assisted by Jimmy Anderson. In the third quarter, Jimmy Quinn made a second goal for the Tigers, assisted by Tommasino; then Tommasino kicked one in with Quinn assisting. Joel Williams, Greg Wojtkun and Roger Foltz each scored for the Wildcats with Gordon Wade assisting on the last one. The Tigers roared back in the fourth quarter with a spectacular end-to-end run and score by Mat Wessler. Quinn then netted the fifth and final goal. BOW: Greg Wojtkun and Pat Coleman (Wildcats) and Shaun Rodriguez, Andrew Sempere and Ben Oyer (Tigers).

Panthers 7 - Mustangs 2

Panthers sprang ahead with first quarter goals by Jeff Desmond and Jamie Howard, assisted by Bryan Murphy and Steven Crossley. Mustangs' Geoffrey Gresh broke away for a goal, aided by Jeff Smith, but Panthers' Howard came back with another goal, assisted by Ben Bradley. Murphy kicked one in the for the Panthers in the third. Jeff Cutler followed with a goal for the Mustangs, assisted by Daniel Minkinen. Howard shot in the final goal for the Panthers, assisted by Jeff Desmond. Allen Mackey served as a dynamite goalie for the Panthers, blocking eight attempts on goal.

Badgers 4 - Wolves 3

The Wolves' goalie Tyler Volpe made many spectacular saves and Shaun Connors as fullback did great defense work, keeping formidable Hugh Quatlebaum from scoring more than three goals during the game. Wolves' David Sullivan scored during the fourth period, assisted by Connors. John Sibelle scored two goals for the Wolves, the last one just seconds before the final whistle. BOW: Philip Ayoub, Karthik Venkatesh and Matt Morgese (Wolves) and Daniel Kulp and Randy Romano (Badgers).

Strawberries 5 - Lemons 1

In the first quarter the Strawberries' Beth Lee and Amy Hayner each scored a goal. Hayner scored again in the second. The Lemons' Randi Spiegel scored off an assist by Tara Cataldo. With good team passing, Coleen Reid was able to score for the Strawberries in the third and fourth quarters. BOW: Elizabeth Clinkenbeard, Ashley Hedrick, Randi Spiegel (Lemons) and Lauren Hacker and Sasha Nelken (Strawberries).

Grapes 2 - Bananas 1

The Bananas' Michelle Crispo scored with an assist by Jennie Murnane. The second quarter remained scoreless. Then Liz Salvia scored for the Grapes in the third quarter. Abby Harris scored the winning goal in the fourth off a beautiful pass by Beth Murphy. BOW: Vanessa Scarbeau, Jenny Schapira and Hannah Edmands (Bananas) and Kalley Thomas, Tethany Caruso and Julie Burn (Grapes).

Muldoon Gets Letter

Arthur Muldoon, a senior at Trinity College, was the recipient of a Blue Award signifying his third varsity letter for the college's crew team. He served as captain for the varsity heavyweight boat, which finished with a 6-1 record and placed sixth at the national championships at the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia. Muldoon, a 1984 graduate of Phillips Academy, is the son of Mrs. Arthur F. Muldoon of Woodland Road and the late Arthur Muldoon.

While Surette was MVP for the varsity, lefty pitcher-outfielders Chris Eggert, Dave Blank and righty hurler Brett Hammond earned Most Valuable Player honors for the JVs, Doherty and West respectively.

Righty hurler Surette finished with a 9-2 record, pitching the Merrimack Valley title-clinching victory against Billerica (2-1), the tournament-qualifying win over Lowell (4-2), and Eastern Mass. Division 1 tourney triumphs over Chelmsford (7-2) and Newton South (2-1). He also hit .293.

Among Eggert's credentials this spring was a perfect game against Lawrence, Blank sparked Doherty with a 6-1 pitching record and .438 batting average, and Hammond was 6-0 with six complete games and a .326 average for West.

Coaches' Award winners were Scott Wallace (varsity), Albie Minichelli (JV), Jeff Hurley (Doherty) and Craig DerAnian (West).

Co-Capt. Wallace batted .329, Hurley .386 and DerAnian .308 this season. The 10th Player Award winners were Mike Moriarty and Tom Murray (varsity), Curt Soloman (JV) and Scott Bernard (Doherty).

Moriarty led the varsity in average at .395 and in RBI with 23, while Co-Capt. Murray hit .343, Soloman over .300 and Bernard .412.

Two Rookies-of-the-Year were chosen, John Russell on the varsity and Jim Landry at Doherty.

Russell finished with a 5-4 pitching record, including a pair of shutouts, and was the hard-luck loser in the 1-0 setback to Waltham for Eastern Mass. Division 1 North bragging rights.

Landry hit .400 and collected 17 RBI for Doherty.

Top Hitter plaques were issued by the varsity, JV and West, Keith Abernathy winning for the varsity (regular season only at .421), first baseman Dan Ferris for the JV (.370) and outfielder Bryan Smith (.417) for West.

Gold Glove plaques were presented to varsity first baseman Chris Conce-mi and JV catcher Sean Gill, both very adept with the leather at their positions.

The two Most Improved Player plaques were given by the JV and West teams, and went to infielder Peter Reming (JV) and pitcher Joe Marinaro.

The West frosh also handed out a "Mr. Hustle Award" to second baseman Matt Orlando and an Unsung Hero Award to shortstop Joe Iarrobino (.353). There were two pitching awards distributed by the junior varsity club.

Eggert was cited for his perfect game, a 2-0 victory over Lawrence May 17. Chris retired 21 consecutive Lancer batters over seven innings, striking out 15.

Curt Soloman pitched a no-hitter earlier in the season, beating Haverhill 4-1 on April 22. He walked only one and fanned eight in that game.

The varsity completed the season with a 17-7 record, the junior varsity was 9-9, Doherty 13-2 and West 9-5 for an excellent 48-23 overall mark by Andover's four school teams.

Final Notes

Several Andover High senior baseball players have made their college choices.

Tom Murray, after agonizing long and hard between UMass. and Providence College, has opted for the University of Massachusetts.

Scott Wallace has narrowed his selection to either UMass. or Brandeis University, Steve Howes will attend Salem State, and ULowell appears to be No. 1 on the lists of Mike Moriarty and Rick Lafond.

Wallace, meanwhile, has been chosen to participate in the prestigious Eastern Mass. North-South Game.

Waltham, after edging Andover 1-0 in the North championship game, was nipped 4-3 itself by eventual state champion Barnstable High in the state semifinal.

Legion Opens With Split

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Post 8 American Legion baseball team, backboned by seven players from the Eastern Mass. Division 1 North finalist Andover High squad, opened its 1988 season by splitting a pair of games with Wakefield and Beverly.

Wakefield, perhaps catching Andover at an emotional low just a few days after the high school's tough 1-0 tournament loss to Waltham, rallied from an early 4-1 deficit to register a 6-4 triumph at Walsh Field in Wakefield.

Post 8 bounced back impressively Sunday evening, however, riding Steve Surette's two-hit shutout to a 3-0 triumph over Beverly Post 33 at Cooney Field in Beverly.

Two other scheduled games were postponed, the one with North Andover because of lightning, and the one with Lynn because seven of its players are members of the St. Mary's of Lynn team which was involved in a conflicting state tournament Division 3 championship game.

The North Andover contest has yet to be rescheduled, while the Lynn game has been inserted on Thursday, July 14 at 8 p.m. under the lights at Fraser Field in Lynn.

This week Post 8 was slated to play three times. Andover hosted Revere (Tuesday) and Peabody (Wednesday) at Phillips Academy earlier, and will travel to Methuen tomorrow evening for a 6 o'clock contest.

The tentative pitching rotation for coach Al Pelletier's squad was John Russell vs. Revere, either Barry Connors or Kevin Foley vs. Peabody, and back with Surette (1-1) tomorrow vs. Methuen.

Wakefield, 6-4
Steve Surette, undoubtedly tired from the final three weeks of the high school season, surrendered 12 hits and was victimized by a three-run Wakefield fifth.

"I think Steve was a little tired," said Pelletier, "and he also wasn't getting the low pitch (for a called strike) from the umpire."

Post 8 spotted the host team a 1-0 lead in the first, then rebounded with three runs in the top of the second inning.

Keith Abernathy reached on an error, Barry Connors singled, Surette laced an RBI single, Matt Pothier walked, John Moosa's infield out rescued the second run, and the third run crossed on a wild pitch.

The final Andover run came in the third, making it 4-1, as John Russell was safe on an error, Scott Wallace bunted him to second base, and Abernathy ripped an RBI basehit.

Wakefield battled back with a solo run in the fourth, three go-ahead runs in the fifth after an error and five straight singles, and an insurance marker in the sixth.

Abernathy, Surette and Moosa paced the eight-hit Post 8 attack with two singles apiece, while Pothier and Connors added one single each.

Rightfielder Andy Shea was a defensive standout for Andover.

Andover, 3-0

Steve Surette bounced back with a brilliant two-hit shutout at Beverly, walking three and whiffing two.

Post 8 pounded out 10 hits against Beverly lefthander Kevin Hyland, including four doubles, and once again did its scoring in the second and third stanzas.

Peter Reming launched the second with a walk, moved ahead on a passed ball, and raced home on Matt Pothier's solid double.

That proved to be the only run Surette needed. However, in the third frame, Joe Lyons singled, Surette singled, Pothier walked to load the bases, and John Moosa smacked a two-run single.

Moosa finished the game 3-for-4, including a double, while Lyons went 2-for-4. Connors and Pothier doubled, and additional singles were lashed by Tom Murray, Steve Howes and Surette.

All three Post 8 outfielders made shoestring catches during the game, Pothier in left, Murray in center and Lyons in rightfield.

Peter Reming was another defensive standout at shortstop, handling four grounders flawlessly in his three innings of work.

Surette yielded only a first-inning double and fourth-inning single to Beverly.

Perry Aids All Star Win

By Rick Harrison

Recent Andover High graduate John Perry was instrumental in the North team's easy 29-6 victory over the South in the 10th annual Shriners' Football Classic last weekend at Boston College Alumni Stadium.

Perry, who will attend the University of New Hampshire on a football scholarship in the fall, set up the second North touchdown in the second quarter by grabbing a 39-yard pass from former Arlington High quarterback Tim Legere.

Two plays later, during the same North scoring drive, John scooped up a teammate's fumble at the South 21 and carried the ball down to the five yard line.

Perry's only points of the contest came after the third North touchdown, late in the opening half, when he snagged a conversion pass from Leger.

Batchelder Paces Gold Opener

By Rick Harrison

Bill Batchelder fired a four-hitter, struck out 13 and belted a three-run double to power Andover Gold to a season-opening 12-2 victory over the North Reading Braves in Greater-Reading Pony League baseball action Monday evening at North Reading High.

The win by the two-time GRPL champions (1985, '86) was also highlighted by Bryan Smith's slugging (single, two-run double) and excellent defensive performances from catcher Matt Daniels, shortstop Mark Hopkinson, 13-year-old second baseman Mike Sullivan and first baseman Smith.

Daniels played an almost flawless game behind the plate, and also gunned down a would-be North Reading bases-tealer, while Hopkinson handled four chances perfectly, Sullivan ranged to his left for a sharp play on a grounder to end an inning, and Smith saved a run with a fine scoop on a low throw.

Gold wasted no time grabbing the lead, collecting a pair of runs on just one hit in the top of the first.

Leadoff batter Jim Landry, who reached base three straight times, opened the game by lining a single just over the outstretched glove of NR shortstop Keith Landry. He stole second, Matt Orlando walked, and Batchelder's fielder's choice grounder left runners at first and third.

Landry scored on a wild pitch, with Batchelder advancing to third, and the AG hurler crossed moments later on a passed ball.

North Reading notched an unearned run in the second when Chris Hansen reached on an infield error, John Kearney was hit by a pitch, and Bob Colby's two-out opposite-field blooper dropped in for an RBI single.

Andover Gold collected three more runs in the third to make it 5-1.

Peter Arthur drew a walk, Scott Hалеcki sacrificed him to second, Jim Landry walked, and Bryan Smith hammered his two-run double to centerfield. Smith took third on an error and later crossed on a wild pitch.

In the AG fourth Mark Hopkinson laced a single, Matt Daniels reached on an error, Jim Hanning singled for a run, Hалеcki's infield out rescued a run, and Hanning scored on a passed ball for an 8-1 advantage.

In the North Reading fourth Hansen was hit by a pitch, took third on Kearney's single and crossed on a sacrifice fly by Corey Ricardo.

Gold's final four runs came in the top of the seventh, Todd Murray starting the rally with a two-out walk.

Mike Sullivan spanked a single to left-centerfield, Bryan Smith beat out an infield hit to load the bases, and Batchelder cleared them with a long double to right-centerfield.

Batchelder then scored the final run when Don Fraser's hard grounder to second skipped past the Braves' fielder.

Batchelder struck out at least one batter in every inning, fanning two in the first, second, third, fourth and sixth.

He also walked six and hit two batters, North Reading leaving the bases loaded twice and stranding 11 runners overall.

Bryan Smith and Batchelder both went 2-for-4 while Smith, Batchelder and Landry scored two runs apiece.

Champions

Guzowski And Marvin On Way To Junior Olympics

Toby Guzowski and Matt Marvin, both of Andover, are members of the Massachusetts Amateur Athletic Union, 13-and-under, basketball team that will play for the national title at the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Kansas, August 6-13. They participated in a tournakent at Bentley College where the gold medal winners were to represent Massachusetts.

Toby and Matt were members of the undefeated Apple Valley Colonials out of Westford, under Coach Jack Conrad. The team consisted of eight players: Paul Tryon of Wellsley, Mike Dean and Chris Conrad of Westford, Craig Lavin, Dennis Doherty and Brendan Burke of Wayland and Guzowski and Marvin.

The Apple Valley team defeated Athol 49-31 on Saturday. Their second game of the day was against the pre-tourney favorites, the Newton Yellow Cab Company. The Apple Valley Colonials defeated the NYCC 82-60 despite loosing Lavin, a key player, due to a turned ankle in the first period. Since they had won their first two games, The Apple Valley team had a bye against a strong Cape Cod team. On Sunday the team played Athol for the gold medal and the chance to go to Kansas and won 70-40.

The Colonials then played undefeated New Hampshire and won 51-46. Marvin played at guard and Guzowski at center/forward. Both played outstanding offensive and defensive games under the tutelage of Conrad. Marvin, son of Dr. Richard and Patricia Marvin of Mohawk Road, is a seventh grader at St. Augustine School in Andover. Guzowski, son of Ann and Richard Guzowski of 12 Locke St., is a sixth grader at Bancroft. He is the youngest player on the Massachusetts team and will be eligible to compete in the 13-and-under tournament age bracket in 1989 while all other team members will move up to the 14-and-under age bracket team.

Little League Results

White Sox 6-Twins 3

Pitchers Tom Clark and Chris Kearn outduoed Jeff Pothier and Henderson to win a close contest. John Ciruso's three-run homer provided the winning margin. Mike McGuire paced the Twins with two hits.

Red Sox 11 - Orioles 1

The Red Sox remained undefeated in the second half with a win over the Orioles. Dave Charland and Dana McCann pitched three innings each, giving up only one hit, a double in the fourth inning by Orioles' Mike Sheppard.

Jon Iarrobino had three hits, two doubles and a single, driving in six runs. Tim McGovern chipped in two singles. Chris Sintros, Ryan Jacobson and Howie Schlichting had fine games defensively. The Red Sox, who won the American League's first half, ran their season's record to 13-1.

Red Sox 6 - Orioles 1

The Red Sox beat the Orioles 6-1. Pitchers Dave Charland gave up only one hit and Jeff Lembo struck out eight, each working three innings.

The Orioles' Robb Wyatt pitched well, only giving up one run in three innings.

The Red Sox exploded for four runs in the fourth on hits by Tim McGovern, Jon Iarrobino and Lembo. The picked up another run in the fifth on Dana McCann's second home run, a towering blast to straight-away center. Ryan Jacobson had a single and double.

Ken Oppenheim had two singles, driving in the Orioles' only run.

Ramesses

The Ramesses the Great exhibition at the Boston Museum of Science offers a wide range of educational activities for children and adults on Ramesses II, ancient Egypt and the amazing science of archaeology.

Where was the world's first comic book invented? Did Ramesses really suck his thumb? What do the Boston Patriots and the ancient Egyptians have in common? Young visitors can find the answers to these questions and more when they take the children's recorded tour of the Ramesses the Great exhibition. While adults can wander through the exhibit listening to a tape narrated by Charlton Heston, children ages 7-14 can enjoy Shari Lewis and friends on a tape that focuses on the lifestyles of the Egyptians.

Red Sox 15 - White Sox 1

Dana McCann and Dave Charland combined to pitch the Red Sox to a big victory over the White Sox. McCann struck out five and Charland six in three innings of work each. Jeff Lembo had four hits, including his second home run of the year. Tim McGovern had three hits while Sam McLellan, Brian Firicano, Charland and McCann had two apiece. Ted Whitmas and Ricky Santagati played well in the field.

The White Sox scored their only run on a double by Sean Croteau and a single by Ed Fortuna.

Red Sox 3 - Twins 2

The Red Sox ran their record to 14-1 and remained undefeated in the second half.

The Red Sox's Jeff Lembo and the Twins' Brian Hussey pitched brilliantly. Lembo gave up four hits and struck out six.

The Red Sox scored first, getting two in the second, the big hit coming off the bat of Chris Sintros with a two-run single.

The Twins tied it in the bottom of the third on Ricky Mendez's two-run single. Lembo blanked the Twins the rest of the way.

The Red Sox got the game-winner in the top of the sixth when Ted Whitman walked with one out, stole second and moved to third on Tim McGovern's infield single. Ryan Jacobson then laid down a perfect squeeze bunt to score Whitman.

Brian Firicano and Ricky Santagati made outstanding catches in the field for the Red Sox while Mike Marsano played well for the Twins.

Morineau squeezed out the 7-6 decision in the final set for Holyoke's lone point.

Sharon, 4-1

There was little for the Golden Warriors to cheer about in the state final against Sharon, which completed its second consecutive undefeated season at Andover's expense.

Dave Katz, who handed Hechemy one of his two losses last year, remained a nemesis with a relatively clean 6-1, 6-2 sweep at the neutral Curry College courts in Milton.

Katz raced out to a commanding 5-0 lead in the first set and was never in danger thereafter.

Last year when the two outstanding players collided Katz edged Hechemy in a blistering three-setter.

Sharon's Lenny Levine and Rob Bessler disposed of Kannam and Clementi at first doubles, also in straight sets, by a near identical 6-2, 6-1 count.

Chris Chiang faced much the same dilemma as Hechemy, falling behind 4-0 in the first set at No. 2 singles. He was then swept by Sharon's Tim Lipsky 6-3, 6-1.

Steve Napolitano was the lone Andover winner at No. 3 singles, while the second doubles tandem of Maginnis and Gack extended their match to three sets before bowing to Harry Palmin and Steve Kritzman. The Sharon duo prevailed 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

The Andover boys have won three straight MVC titles, four in the last six years, were 21-1 last season and are 59-5 over the past three springs.

Tuesday, June 28th, is the date for the 22nd Annual "Music on the Merrimack" Band Concert and Barbecue, sponsored by the Employees of St. John's Hospital and the lo-

Stanley A. Nartliff, "Stan The Man"
Stanley's Auto Radiator

Before you take off on that vacation, make sure your car is in good working condition. Nothing can dampen the enthusiasm of a holiday trip quicker than having your car break down in traffic.

The place to go in order to have your radiator and heating system checked and repaired is Stanley's Auto Radiator, and the person to see is "Stan the Radiator Man". He has earned this reputation as a certified mechanic for thirteen years who is an expert on radiator repair. He can save most customers money by installing a recore (a process of rebuilding old radiators) rather than a complete new radiator. The recore is comes with a two year warranty in writing.

In addition to radiators, he does gas tank repairs, complete heater core installation, tune ups, oil and oil filter changes and water pumps. His specialty is heavy truck radiator repairs. He has the facilities to undertake the dangerous task of gas tank repair safely and effectively. Stan also repairs industrial coolers and hydraulic coolers. He is an expert and his customers profit from his knowledge and experience.

Stan offers same day service and will accommodate walk-ins whenever possible. He offers discount's of up to 50% to all independent garages in the area and guarantees his off the street customers the lowest price. He promises to beat any competitor's price.

This August he will celebrate the first anniversary of going into business for himself. He shares the same building with his brother Paul's auto body shop. Paul offers complete frame straightening, painting and free estimates for insurance claims.

Stanley's Auto Radiator is located at 21 Water St., Lawrence, and open Mon. Through Fri. 8:00 to 5:00 and Sat. at the customers' convenience. Phone: 975-3037. R.C. Bernai Carlo & Co.

Carlo Colantino and his congenial, experienced staff carry the full line of Paul Mitchell hair products to meet your hair care needs. Now they are pleased to offer their customers the new Symmetry Wave.

Customers have waited forty years for a perm that would give maximum curl with minimal damage. Now they can get the look they want and hair that will look better than ever. With Symmetry Wave one can create a new look as often as wished. It is even possible to perm and color on the same day. Best of all, this perm is virtually odor free.

Of course, since it's a Paul Mitchell product, it isn't just an ordinary perm. Symmetry Wave's unique Delayed Lock-in Option gives Carlo & Co.'s stylists ultimate flexibility in designing your hair. Your perm will be customized to the most important specifications of all-yours. This is accomplished without sacrificing the strong curl definition you would expect from a Paul Mitchell permanent. The finished product is everything you have been looking for: beautiful curl and beautiful hair.

For further information or to make an appointment, call Carlo & Co. They are located at 53 Essex Street, Andover, above the Depot House of Pizza. Phone 475-9347. R.C. Bernal

The funds will be used in conjunction with W.P.A. labor.

The annual alumni reunion banquet of Punchard's alumni association will be held tonight at 6:30 in the Memorial auditorium cafeteria. Payment of the one dollar dinner fee will automatically pay for the year's dues.

Individual notices have been sent to each employee of the Board of Public Works warning them that they will be summarily fired in the event of future drinking on the job.

A request that trucks use the bypass, now that the bridge over the Shawsheen river on the Den Rock road has been completed, was made yesterday by the selectmen in a communication to the Motor Truck Club of Massachusetts.

A penny social and whist was enjoyed by the local Rebekah lodge Monday evening in Fraternal hall.

Last Friday evening the gymnasium was completely transformed into a trans-Atlantic liner as a setting for the June dance of the ninth grade.

Miss Louise Sherman was elected to a vacancy in the West Center school.

25 Years Ago — May 1963

Schematic drawings for a new, 1,500-pupil high school will be prepared by Architect Frank Crimp, following a 3-2 vote of the School Committee Monday night.

Joseph A. McCarthy was awarded the honorary Bachelor of Science degree "extra ordinem" from Tufts University at its 107th Commencement exercises June 9.

The High School Student Council has adopted "The Golden Warriors" as the new school symbol.

A spanking-new manufacturing and sales corporation will get off the ground here by July 1, with nationwide ambitions. Auto-Marine Gard Inc. has been set up to manufacture and sell an invention of North Andover's William Howarth — an anti-theft and safety device that can easily be attached to cars and boats. It's called Gard-Tron.

The Sanborn School was shut down Tuesday and opened for only a half-hour Wednesday morning, due to a blocked sewer.

The eagerly-anticipated Sidewalk Bazaar will begin tomorrow at 10 a.m., continuing until 9 p.m. There are many attractions, numerous booths and displays, provided by local organizations and merchants.

The Selectmen have taken "under advisement" a request from the Eastern Mass. Street Railway Co. to travel over additional streets in town. The company is attempting to set up service to Park Square, Boston, via Rt. 125 and Rt. 93. But it has also requested use of the interchange of Rt. 133 and 93 as an alternate.

The sixth grade graduates of the Central Elementary School, numbering 91, were the guest of their parents on the evening of June 13 at a delicious chicken pie dinner served in the school cafeteria, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The first commercial jet airliner was the Comet I in 1952.

Playground registrations will be held June 27 and June 28 as a prelude to official opening of the grounds the following Monday.

10 Years Ago — May 1978

Andover police, this past week, have spent considerable time in court with arrests of persons involved in housebreaks, which have led to the solving of other breaks in the community.

Installation of new traffic lights, slight alteration of Elm Square and possibly a master control for traffic signals throughout the downtown area is proposed as a relief for Elm Square traffic problems.

The School Building Committee, charged with planning for alterations to East Junior High, and construction of a classroom-auditorium building at the high school, has met four times within the past week and will be in session again tonight. Robert B. McIntyre, former School Committeeman, has been named chairman of the building committee.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark attended a two-day conference of municipal officials in Washington, D.C., last week conducted by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

A group of Rotarians from Andover, Hampshire, England, have returned home following a visit to Andover, Mass., points in the area and being entertained by the Greater Lawrence Rotary club.

The Andover Conservation commission has announced that henceforth anyone filing a notice of intent with the commission for projects that fall within the provisions of the Wetlands Protection Act, must include a check made payable to the town of Andover in the amount of $15.

During the annual Sidewalk Bazaar days, parents and friends of the Andover High school hockey program, will be seeking signatures on petitions to retain the varsity sport at the school.

Dr. Jerome Long and his associates are now at work in the field mapping boundaries of wetlands throughout the town.

The annual Old Time Fourth of July picnic celebration is set for the playstead again this year on Tuesday, July 4, beginning at noon, with the old fashioned callopie making the rounds of the town.

Personal Injury Accidents

If you are injured in an accident, it is appropriate and advisable to contact an attorney as soon as possible. The attorney can act to preserve your rights by interviewing witnesses, investigating the accident and negotiating and litigating on your behalf.

Contact Neil E. Onerheim or John S. Wessler, who represent accident victims seeking compensation for their injuries.

Langford Seafood

Pictured above are the third and fourth generations of Langford Seafood. This well-known seafood store was founded in 1944 by the present owner's father, Malcolm B. Langford. His daughter, Sandra and her husband Joseph Lasonde, present owners, are assisted by their daughters Linda Saindon and Lisa Casey, who handle the retail sales. Sons-in-law Chuck Saindon is store manager and Kevin Casey is back-shop foreman. The fourth generation loves to visit the family store and is anxious for their turn to help.

After seeing the fantastic assortment of seafood displayed in this immaculate store, one can understand why loyal customers return and their reputation has spread so far by word-of-mouth.

In addition to the large selection of seafood in the display case, one can buy prepared, oven ready stuffed shrimp, lobster and scallop, pie, scrod, haddock, fried clams, onion rings, cole slaw and on Fridays fish and chips are available. You may choose live lobsters from the finest selection in the area. If the customer needs advice or suggestions for serving the seafood, Langfords is knowledgeable and eager to help.

Because of Joe Langford's knowledge, experience and excellent reputation with the fishermen, he is able to sell the freshest fish at the best price, which is the current market price. Their modern spotless on site processing plant facilitates this process.

Langford Seafood is centrally located at 229 South Union Street, Lawrence. Hours are Mon.-Thurs. 7:00-5:00, Fri. 7:00-7:00, Sat. 8:00-4:00. Phone: 682-3791. R.C. Bernal coma for three weeks. After extensive therapy, McEwen says he has progressed as far as possible.

McEwen can't feel the left side of his body, but he has learned to move the muscles on that side.

The right side of his brain has been permanently damaged. This resulted in a 10-year memory loss, which can never be recovered. During that time, he attended two colleges, worked as a computer engineer, got married and had a daughter.

His life has changed.

He's getting to know his family all over again. He lives on Social Security because he can't work anymore. And often his thoughts get jumbled and he forgets what he's doing or loses his train of thought, he said.

"Every single thing I do is a struggle," McEwen said. He noted a simple task to explain his injury. If he were to walk to a store to buy some goods, he would forget what he wanted to buy. Then, he would forget how to get home from the store.

"It's crazy," he said, adding "I get frustrated."

Even so, McEwen is lucky. Many patients with head or spinal cord injuries have to remain in a nursing home.

Speaking to students is something that has to be done because the injuries are serious, McEwen said.

"They have to be more aware that this can happen," he said.

Aerobics

The community health education department of the Regional Health Center in Wilmington is offering aerobic dance classes Tuesdays and Thursdays, July 5-August 25, from 5:10 p.m. to 6 p.m. (intermediate) and 6 p.m. to 6:50 p.m. (low impact) and Mondays and Wednesdays, July 11-August 31, from 6 p.m. to 6:50 p.m. Class size is limited. Aerobic dance means exercising "with oxygen," making the heart and lungs work harder to strengthen the cardiovascular lar system. Many people feel more energetic because the exercising increases one's endurance.

The Regional Health Center in Wilmington is a division of Choate-symmes Health Services.

Maintenance

A swimming pool is a fine addition to family life provided it is kept clean and clear. The water in a swimming pool is never changed, it is only cleaned.

The heart of a home pool consists of the filter, which is a container holding either diatomaceous earth or sand and gravel, a pump to circulate pool water through the filter and a valve to direct the flow of water.

The filter should be chosen by the amount of water it will actually filter. They are rated by the number of gallons they can process per hour. A good filter will be able to clean a pool in about eight to 12 hours. To compute the capacity of a pool, multiply the length by the width by the depth times 7.5, which will give the number of gallons it will hold.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS THE TRIAL COURT THE PROBATE AND FAMILY COURT Essex Division Docket No. 88P1125-E1 NOTICE

Estate of Frank J. Mathias, otherwise known as Frank Joseph Mathias late of Andover in the County of Essex.

A petition has been presented in the above-captioned matter praying that a certain instrument be probated purporting to be the last will of said deceased by Virginia L. Mathias of North Andover in the County of Essex, praying that she be appointed executrix thereof, without giving a surety on her bond.

If you desire to object to the allowance of said petition, you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Salem on or before 10:00 in the forenoon on July 18, 1988.

In addition you should file a written statement of objections to the petition, giving specific grounds therefore, within thirty (30) days after the return day (or such other time as the Court, on motion with notice to the petitioner, may allow) in accordance with Probate Rule 16.

Witness, Thaddeus Buczek, Esquire, First Justice of said Court at Salem, the fifteenth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighty-eight.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

By Maureen Shiepe, G.R.I.
Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

SHOPPING FOR A MORTGAGE LOAN

The most important thing to look for when you're shopping for the best mortgage is the interest rate, right? Not necessarily. There are many other factors to consider, including the lender's charges for making the loan, the terms under which the loan will be approved, and the lender's reputation for completing its processing of loan applications in time for settlement deadlines set forth in customer's purchase agreements.

When Realtors are involved in sales transactions, we don't tell buyers which mortgage companies to use. We can, however, provide names and telephone numbers of established lenders that have provided good service to past customers. We can also explain the options that are available and the difference in the various mortgages being offered. Using a low interest rate as the main criteria for choosing a mortgage can cost you money, and maybe the home you want to buy, if the company can't deliver the promised great deal.

For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, consult the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate. Please call us at 685-5000 or stop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous

Bartlett's Reach in Amesbury, MA, offers a luxurious maintenance-free lifestyle in a secluded waterfront setting. Situated on 100 acres of unspoiled woodland, the residences at Bartlett's Reach slope peacefully down to the banks of the Merrimack River. Choose from several award-winning townhouse and loft designs, each with the elegance, space and style that makes Bartlett's Reach one of the best values north of Boston. In the heart of Bartlett's Reach, you'll find a recreational complex complete with clubhouse and fitness center, outdoor swimming pool and two illuminated tennis courts. The condominiums at Bartlett's Reach also feature a private 1.2-acre waterfront park along the shores of the Merrimack. Bartlett's Reach is conveniently located near the junctions of routes 495, 95 and 110 approximately 40 miles north of Boston.

HOUSEHUNTING TAX DEDUCTION

Under what circumstances can a home buyer deduct the cost of finding a new residence?

Usually, the expenses related to finding a new home are not deductible. However, if the move and the sale of the old home are related to a new job at a workplace at least 35 miles farther from the taxpayer's home than his former place of employment, then the deduction of up to $3,000 is available for cost associated with acquiring the new residence and disposing of the old one.

Deductions for househunting trips, including the temporary quarters, are limited to $1,500 of the $3,000 total. Assuming the expenses are not reimbursed by the seller's employer, deductible moving expenses include costs associated with travel to a new location, transportation for household furnishings and personal effects, remove househunting trips, temporary living expenses for up to 30 days at the new location, and various sale and purchase items, such as legal fees, real estate commissions, and title fees.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Poncherd Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.
